CAR FARE CUT AWAITED AS U.S. REFUSES TO ACT

Commerce Board to Discuss Ruling.

Forecasts of reduced carefare for Chicago were freely made last night on the eve of the decision of the Illinois Commerce commission, which is scheduled to come up for consideration today.

The United States Supreme court yesterday knocked out Mayor Thompson's contention that the nickel fare provision of the 1907 contract ordinance is binding upon the companies.

As soon as he heard of this decision, Chairman Frank L. Smith of the commerce commission prepared the way for immediate action. He was at his home in Dwight. From there he sent a telegram to Cicero J. Lindly, vice chairman, at Springfield requesting him to be in Chicago this morning. The other commissioners are in Chicago and as Chairman Smith can run in from Dwight in two hours, it is expected the stage will be set for heavy work before noon.

Quick Decision Possible.

According to statements by members of the commission, no conclusion has been reached upon the evidence and argument heard in Chicago during the last six weeks. Still greater emphasis has been laid on statements that no order has been prepared. But it also has been reported that if they desired the commissioners could announce their findings after a single meeting, possibly delaying the wording of the final order until later.

The commission was ready to act but was understood for some time but then was a question whether considerable delay might not result if it continued to wait for the decision in the 5 cent fare case at Washington. That decision came more speedily than was expected generally and with a simplicity that was startling. It consisted solely of an announcement by Chief Justice Taft:

"Dismissed for want of jurisdiction upon authority of 'City of Pawhuska vs. Pawhuska Oil and Gas Company' and 'City of Chicago vs. Dempsey'."

Illinois Court Is Final.

In a word the court of last resort declined to pass on the merits of the controversy. It held that the action of the Illinois Supreme court upholding the power of the state commission to fix fares was final.

This was the contention of the traction companies, who pleaded that the Washington court had no jurisdiction, since no question was raised under the federal constitution. The argument of Corporation Counsel Etzelson was that the action of the state commission in fixing fares to 7 cents, and later to 8 cents, had violated the contract clause of the constitution. The two cases mentioned in the decision were cited by the traction companies.

Important Effect Expected.

This finding by the highest tribunal in the country is expected to have an important effect on traction battles in other cities, such as New York. New York attorneys asked to intervene in the Chicago case but permission was denied. At that time they said the decision might become a precedent in the New York case, but in Washington last night Senator Hiram Johnson, special counsel for the city of New York, said the finding would not affect the eastern battle.

FUTILE FIGHT, BIG EXPENSE

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The United States Supreme court decision against the city administration for a 5 cent fare as a contract right was no surprise to those who have followed the fare case before the Illinois Commerce commission. There, the law was argued at three times the length in which it was presented to the United States Supreme court.

For all the special litigation Chester B. Cleveland, special counsel at $150,000 this year, in an annual communication to the city council, printed in the proceedings of June 15 last, Cleveland says:

"This ($150,000) is less than half the amount appropriated last year. In making our estimate of $150,000 for this year in these matters we thought the amount just as low as we thought it would be possible for us to get along with. But the city council made it $150,000."

Now the riders appreciate that they contribute directly and in large measure for the expense of the litigation, because each spent is "reimbursed" so far as the same may be legally done, from the traction fund. The expense of the rate litigation on car fares, together with various investigations, has come up $689,232 of the traction fund.

NAVY ASKS FOR $27,000,000; IS GIVEN—NOTHING

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—A deficiency appropriation bill, carrying approximately $104,000,000, or $88,000,000 less than the $190,000,000 requested by various government departments, was reported today by the house appropriations committee. The navy asked for $27,000,000 and was granted nothing; the veterans' bureau requested $121,000,000 and was allotted $65,000,000.

The deficiency bill, as reported, provides that $40,000,000 of the amount allowed the veterans' bureau is for vocational training and the $25,000,000 balance is for hospitalization. The treasury department is to receive $28,000,000, of which $23,000,000 is for refunding of internal revenue taxes erroneously collected.

A total of $6,500,000 is carried for the postal service. The department of agriculture is allotted $241,000 for fighting forest fires, $150,000 for combating the pine beetle, and $47,500 for enforcing the future trading act. The labor department is to receive $450,000 for regulating immigration and an additional $52,000 for the Ellis Island, N. Y., immigration station.

(Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A Daily Mail dispatch from Madras says sixty-four Moplah prisoners were asphyxiated in a closed railway wagon while being conveyed from Trier to Bellary. When the wagon was opened fifty-six were found dead and eight more died later.

The government has ordered an inquiry. Mohammedans have telegraphed representations to the government and to Earl Cromer, who is chief of the Prince of Wales's staff.

According to the Daily Express, alterations in the Prince of Wales's program in India have been made, owing to the Bombay disturbances. The gathering of Indian school children in Bombay Tuesday has been canceled because it might expose the children to danger from the rioters.

REBELS REHEARD HINDUS.

CALCUTTA, India, Nov. 21.—The Moplah warriors, who are carrying on the warfare against the British in southern India, according to official figures, number 15,000 armed men and 100,000 of a fighting age. The affected area covers nearly 8,000 square miles. The Hindu refugees number about 20,000, and the government has organized charities to feed them in five camps in Calcutta. Gandhi's congress claims to be feeding 50,000 in private homes. The Hindus in the rebel district have suffered severely at the hands of the Moplahs. The other day a Hindu who had been wounded in the neck walked ten miles to Calcutta, he having been forced to hold his head up all the way.

Another who just came in from the jungle said fifty of his fellow townsmen had been beheaded. The Moplahs are forcibly converting many to Mohammedanism, the Hindus being forced to eat beef and to have their heads shaved. If the forced converts revert to Hinduism, the Moplahs kill them, and if they remain Moslems, they are shunned by their families.

The previous Moplah revolts have been small and unorganized. The present is the most serious that has occurred.

Some influential Hindus are co-operating with the Moplahs. If the Moslem fever is not aroused elsewhere, it is predicted that the present revolt will be ended by Christmas. If, however, other Moslems are provoked, it is feared that conditions will be terrible.

The leader of the rebels has assumed the name of King Khilafat Mohammed Haidi. He is extremely enterprising, and already has set up courts to try his followers. He is a Mecca pilgrim, which gives him considerable importance in the eyes of the natives here and is of humble origin.

LONDON-TOKIO PACT MAY END IN CHINA ACCORD

Eight Nations Accept Root's Solution.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Adoption by representatives of the eight powers, sitting in the committee on the far east, of a program to give China its "bill of rights" is regarded as the first step in the direction of an Anglo-American-Japanese understanding to supplant the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The Chinese program adopted today was the child of the "master mind" of Elihu Root. In effect the resolutions will give China a chance to get on her feet and take her place in the family of nations.

Points in the Program.

Under the program these points are made sure:

There will be no intervention by foreign powers in the present political struggle in China.

The territorial and administrative integrity of the Asiatic republic is assured.

Japan and all the other nations agreed to refrain from a greedy scramble for commercial rights and privileges there.

The "open door" finds a new definition.

The Root resolutions appear to maintain the status quo in China, leaving untouched Japan's legal rights there. Under them, however, Japan would have to change her tactics in Shantung and Manchuria.

Easy Way to End Alliance.

It is predicted that when this agreement is carried out Japan and Britain will be in a position to announce the dissolution of their alliance. It is declared the agreement also makes unnecessary the Root-Takahira agreement and the Lansing-Ishii agreement.

The British delegation seized upon two occasions today to explain the British attitude toward the alliance and the dissolution thereof. These pronouncements followed hard upon the double barreled onslaught on the alliance this morning by Lord Northcliffe.

China and Wickham Steed, editor of the London Times, who is in Washington, and the demand for the termination of the alliance uttered by the labor party of England, which is already a formidable aspirant for control of the British government.

Old Treaty Is Obsolete.

Speaking of the agreement on principles relating to China, the spokesman for the British delegation tonight said:

"If this very favorable result is continued, then from the whole of this might come a complete agreement supported by as many powers as might want to support it, which would make not only obsolete clauses of the Anglo-Japanese alliance useless, but the treaty itself obsolete."

"There are features in the alliance which have become obsolete as a result of the flow of events of the last nineteen years. That does not mean that the principle of friendship between Great Britain and Japan which underlies the alliance has become obsolete."

All Might Enter Plan.

"Mr. Balfour has hoped that a tripartite agreement might take the place of the alliance, and by that I do not mean a treaty. I have not mentioned 'abrogation' of the treaty. The tripartite agreement might take the form of a quintuple agreement by the inclusion of China and other nations. It would be an agreement expressing the common principles as regards politics in the far east."

"Our ideas with regard to the Anglo-Japanese alliance are elastic. Our two main principles are perfectly simple. First, the interest of the world and of the British empire in peace; and, second, that peace will only be secured if it is established on an understanding between Great Britain and America, between Great Britain and Japan, and between Great Britain and all the rest of the nations."

"Resolutions by Mr. Root."

The statement issued after the committee meeting mentions that the resolutions were prepared by Mr. Root as "setting forth the general principles to guide the committee in its further investigation in regard to China." They were discussed for more than an hour and amendments made. Delegates declared they were "in honor bound" not to discuss such details. The resolutions said:

"It is the firm intention of the powers attending this conference, hereinafter mentioned, to wit: The United States of America, Belgium, the British Empire, and all the rest of the nations."

FRENCH PREMIER TELLS "NEED OF A LARGE ARMY"

The speech of M. Briand, premier of France, before the armament conference yesterday, was an example, perhaps unprecedented, of open statement to the world of a nation's fears of a neighbor. In the most lengthy appeal thus far heard in this meeting, M. Briand laid bare France's special plea for retaining its large army. He gave his nation's bill of particulars, charging that Germany remains militaristic and a peril to France.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—The official interpretation of the address of Premier Briand of France at today's plenary session of the armament conference, after quoting him as expressing France's hope for peace, continues:

"To make peace—and I am speaking, of course, of land armament—it is not sufficient to reduce effectives, and decrease war material. That is the physical side, a physical aspect of things. There is another consideration which we have no right to neglect. It is necessary that besides this physical disarmament, there should be what I shall call a general atmosphere of peace. In other words, a moral disarmament is as necessary as the material one."

"I have the right to say this, and I hope to be able to prove it to you. And I have the right to say to you that in Europe, as it is at present, there are serious elements of instability, there are such conditions prevailing that France is obliged to face them with a view to her own security."

Difficult to Know Conditions.

"I am now staying in a country many of the men of which have already enjoyed the opportunity of seeing France and knowing exactly what she is. They came to us in the most critical time of the war. They came and shed their blood—mingled their blood with ours, and they shared our life, and they have seen France, and they now know what France is. And certainly these men have done everything to dispel and drive away those noxious gases which have been spread about and under which certain people have been trying to mask and to conceal the true face of France."

"Here in this country you are living among states which do not know the extended frontiers and frontiers of Europe. Here you live in an immense expanse of space. You do not know any factious on your own land. You have nothing to fear. So that it is rather difficult for some of you—to realize what are the conditions at present prevailing in Europe, after war and after victory."

The "Most Cruel Charge."

"I quite admit that every citizen of the United States should come and tell me this: 'The war is won. Peace is signed. Germany has reduced her army to a great extent. Most of her war material has been destroyed. What is it that prevents peace from now reigning in Europe? Why is it that France keeps such a considerable army, abundantly provided with war material?'"

"Of course, in saying this, only certain people have got something at the back of their minds. They suggest that France also has some hidden thought—some hidden design. It has been said that France wanted to install in Europe a sort of military supremacy, and that after all she wanted to be so simply to take the place France occupied before the war. Gentlemen, perhaps this is the most painful, heart rending, and cruel thing that a Frenchman can hear."

Germany Has Broken Word.

"Since the armistice we have had many disappointments. France has had to wait for certain realizations which she has not been able to get. She has seen Germany digress—digress."

U.S. AND BRITAIN PLEDGE PARIS MORAL BACKING

Speech of Premier Wins Support.

BULLETIN.

New York, Nov. 22.—The Times prints this morning a dispatch from its correspondent in Washington, Edwin L. James, saying:

"France wants the same size capital ship fleet as Japan and as many submarines as England or America. It became known tonight that before Premier Briand leaves Washington there will be laid before the committee on armaments a request that France's allowance of naval tonnage in capital ships and in general auxiliary craft be placed on the level of the allowance for Japan, that is, 300,000 tons."

BY HENRY WALES.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—An "unwritten law" binding Great Britain and the United States to the cause of France if she should be wantonly assailed by Germany in the future was enunciated by Arthur Balfour and Secretary of State Hughes in the Continental Memorial hall today.

Responding to the remarkable speech delivered by Premier Briand of France, wherein he stated in plain terms the peril in which France thinks herself to be, the representatives of Britain and the United States, in general terms, pledged their respective nations to support the cause of liberty and justice in Europe as in the past.

The careful, measured words of Mr. Balfour and Secretary Hughes do not promise an equivalent in point of international law to the Anglo-Franco-American defensive treaty as signed by Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Clemenceau, and President Wilson—a treaty which has become invalid since it was never even submitted to the senate.

Make Their Position Clear.

But the meaning of the brief British and American plenipotentiaries to the disarmament conference could not be gained at this morning's session when they voiced the sentiments of their respective nations in reply to M. Briand's plea for recognition of what he calls "France's precarious position." As a result of the premier's address, France's "special status" as "police man in Europe" is informally recognized, though Mr. Hughes was careful to say that the consideration of land armaments would proceed through the committee plan.

Mr. Hughes did say that there should be no isolation for France in case of unwarranted attack upon the cause of liberty. He expressed sympathy with practical difficulties that beset France. It is known that at present France has 457,000 troops under arms. This number is to be reduced to 500,000 by summer. Before the war the troops with the colors numbered 800,000. During the war there were 4,000,000 mobilized, half of them in combat zone.

Historic Session Is Opened.

material one. In Europe there are serious elements of instability that France is obliged to face."

Senator Underwood, sitting beside M. Brand, seemed surprised when the French premier banged the table and shook his finger to emphasize his statements, but Senators Root and Lodge, sitting next, who understood French, nodded reassuringly as "sympathetically" while Secretary Hughes bowed in acquiescence with the statements.

Perishing and Hoover Grave.

Gen. Pershing, sitting behind Mr. Hughes, assumed a grave air, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover frowned deeply as M. Brand recounted the Prussian war aims as written by Moltke and Ludendorff.

The French premier then pictured the menace of Russia, disorganized and drifting, with its 120,000,000 population, 600,000 armed men, and 1,500,000 potential soldiers, alongside a vindictive, unrepentant Germany. When his speech was translated at the last word Mr. Balfour arose to utter British understanding, sympathy, and support.

Others followed suit, and then, as the hands of the big clock in the hall pointed toward 2, Mr. Hughes arose.

"No words ever spoken by France have fallen on deaf ears in the United States," Mr. Hughes said, and tremendous applause greeted the promise.

"The heart of America was thrilled by her valor and sacrifice, and the memory of her stand for liberty is imperishable in this country."

What Is Essential Now.

"It is evident from what M. Brand has said that what is essential at this time, in order that we may achieve the great ideal is the will to peace. And there can be no hope of a will to peace until institutions of liberty and justice are secure among all peace loving people."

"May I say, in response to a word which challenged us all as it was uttered by M. Brand, that there is no moral isolation for the defenders of liberty and justice? We understand the difficulties, what has been said will be read throughout this broad land by a people that desires to understand."

"The essential condition of progress toward a mutual understanding and a maintenance of the peace of the world is that we should know exactly the difficulties which each nation has to consider, that we should be able justly to appraise them, that we should have the most candid and complete statement of all that is involved in them, and then with that full appreciation

ALLEGED SHADOW OF NEW WAR

1—Lord Northcliffe, British editor, points out Japan in Shantung is a constant menace to peace in the far east.

2—Japanese troops are in Tsingtau, the "Pittsburgh of China," acting as if they owned the city. Tsingtau is regarded as the key to Shantung.

3—The Japs are also in the north half of Sakhalin, which they seized illegally from the Russians.

4—The government of Vladivostok under sway of Japan, and Japs control maritime region of Siberia.

5—All of Manchuria is said to have fallen into the hands of Japan, and the "open door" policy of America has ceased to exist there.

6—The Japs hold Port Arthur and the Liaotung peninsula, effectively flanking all routes into North China.

7—Lord Northcliffe also points out that the Japs have not been keepers of their word and that they used the Anglo-Japanese alliance to further their own aims in destroying the independence of Korea they guaranteed and finally absorbing that country.

of the apprehensions, of the dangers of all that may create obstacles in the path of the policy that we are anxious to pursue, we should then plan to meet the case to the utmost practicable extent; and thus the will to peace may have effective expression.

Discuss Details Later.

"We cannot go into a statement of detail now. Apparently the conference is so organized that this matter will have an appropriate place in our discussion. We cannot foresee at the moment what practical measures may be available, but the expressions that we have heard from the representatives of the powers make us confident that here will be generated that disposition which is essential to national security, the final assurance of security which armies and officers and men and material can never supply, that is, the disposal of a world conscious of its mutual interests of their dependence, and upon the fact that if they desire, most ardently and wholly desire it, peace will be enduring."

M. Brand beamed his satisfaction when this reply from the United States—as satisfactory as it was unexpected—was translated for him. For the statements of Mr. Balfour and Secretary Hughes will mean as much to the chamber of deputies in Paris and the French people generally as the Anglo-Franco-American alliance they wanted, and which the British empire fought and in which it still believes.

"Killed on the field of battle, we lost nearly a million men. I am talking of the British empire now. We lost well over 2,000,000 men in addition, maimed and wounded."

Pledge to Help Again.

"We grieve over the sacrifice; we do not regret it. And if the cause of international liberty was worthy of this immense sacrifice, and if we, at all events, have not changed our views, either as to the righteousness of the war or as to its necessity, how can it be otherwise than if again the lust of domination should threaten peace, how

WE NEVER FORGET: BRITAIN

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—Arthur J. Balfour, speaking for the British empire in reply to Premier Brand, said:

"Mr. Chairman, evidently this is not a fitting moment to deal at length or in detail with the great speech which has just come to the conclusion. It has been your privilege, and my privilege, to hear one of the great masters of parliamentary oratory."

"He has told us, I believe without reserve, what are the anxieties, what are the preoccupations, of the country over whose destinies he presides. He had told us what they fear and why. "It must be acknowledged, sorrowfully acknowledged, that the speech to which we have just listened is not hopeful for any immediate solution of the great problem of land armament. And why is it—why is it that there is this great difference between land armaments and sea armaments?"

No Moral Disarmament.

"It is because, as M. Brand has explained to you, in that case there has been no moral disarmament, because we have no assurance, or because the French government, who watch the things closely, have no assurance either in Russia or in Germany that moral disarmament has made the progress which would make material disarmament an immediate possibility."

"I do not venture to offer an opinion of my own upon this question. Only this I would say—M. Brand appears to fear lest France should feel herself in a tragedy indeed."

"That the liberties of Europe and the world in general, and of France in particular, should be maintained and guarded against the dominating policy of her eastern neighbor is the cause for which the British empire fought and in which it still believes."

should it be possible that we who had done so much for the great cause of international liberty should see that cause perish before our eyes rather than make further sacrifices in its defense?"

ITALY LONGS FOR PEACE

Senator Schanzer, speaking for the Italian delegation, said:

"Gentlemen, I am going to use the French language because I wish that the thought of the Italian delegation should argue direct, and without the short delay of translation, direct to the French delegation across the table."

"It is far from my mind to discuss what France considers indispensable for her national safety. That safety is as dear to us as it may be to them, and we are still morally by the side of our allies of yesterday and our friends today."

JAPAN'S NEEDS COME FIRST

Baron Kato, for Japan, said:

"It is needless for me to assure M. Brand that Japan has nothing but a most profound sympathy for her peculiarly difficult position."

"As to land armament limitation."

ARTICLE XI.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The first session of the Washington conference featured, as the cinematograph people say, President Harding and Secretary Hughes; the second day was Mr. Briand's day. This third, from which I have just come, was the session of M. Briand.

The four personalities contrast very strikingly. President Harding was a stately figure, making a very noble oration in the best American fashion; Mr. Hughes was hard, exact, clear cut, very earnest and explicit; Mr. Briand, slender and stooping, silvery-haired, and urbane, made his carefully worded impromptu speech with a care that left no ragged end to a sentence and no gap for applause. All three are taller and more manly than M. Briand, whose mane of hair flows back from his face in leonine style; whose mobile face and fluent gestures reinforce the stirring notes of his wonderful voice. His eloquence was so great that many a congressman in the gallery above, quite innocent of French, was moved to applause by the sheer grace and music of the performance.

"No Faith in Briand's Cause."

Eloquence could not save the day or the occasion. M. Briand spoke to a gathering that was saturated with scepticism for a hard, exact, clear cut, very earnest and explicit; Mr. Briand, slender and stooping, silvery-haired, and urbane, made his carefully worded impromptu speech with a care that left no ragged end to a sentence and no gap for applause. All three are taller and more manly than M. Briand, whose mane of hair flows back from his face in leonine style; whose mobile face and fluent gestures reinforce the stirring notes of his wonderful voice. His eloquence was so great that many a congressman in the gallery above, quite innocent of French, was moved to applause by the sheer grace and music of the performance.

An Echo of Bourbon Days.

M. Briand put before the conference no definite proposals at all. After Mr. Hughes, with that magnificent display of course of his, punctuated by "we propose to scrap," M. Briand was an anti-climax. France proposes to scrap nothing. France does not know how to scrap. She learns nothing and forgets nothing. It is her supreme misfortune.

He explained the position of France in a melodious discourse of apologies and excuses. The French contribution to the disarmament conference is that France has not the slightest intention of scrapping. She is reducing her term of service with the colors from three years to two. In a Europe of untrained men, this is not disarmament, but economy.

The great feature of M. Briand's discourse was his pretense of the absolute unimportance of England in European affairs. France, for whom, as Mr. Briand in a few words of infinite gentleness reminded M. Briand, France, for whom the British empire lost a million dead—nearly as many men as France herself lost—France, to whose rescue from German attack came British, Russian, and presently Italy and America, France, M. Briand declared, was alone in the world, friendless and terribly treated by Germany and Russia.

"His Nonsensical Premises."

And on the nonsensical assumption of French isolation, M. Briand unfolded a case that was either—I hesitate to consider which—and how shall I put that old alternative?—deficient in its estimate of reality, or else—just special pleading.

The plain fact of the case is that France is maintaining a vast army in the face of a disarmed world, and she is preparing energetically for fresh military operations in Europe and for war under sea against Great Britain.

To excuse this line of action M. Briand unfolded a fabulous account of the German preparation for a renewal of hostilities; every soldier in the small force of troops allowed to Germany is an officer or noncommissioned officer, so that practically the German army can expand at any moment to millions, and Germany is not morally disarmed because Ludendorff—M. Briand quoted him at some length—is still writing and talking militant nonsense.

Berlin Is Honest, Wells Says.

Even M. Briand has to admit that the present German government is honest and well meaning, but it is a weak government. It is not the real thing. The real Germany is the Germany necessary for M. Briand's argument. And behind Germany is Russia. He conjured up a great phantom of a Russia, which would have conquered all Europe but for the French armies and Poland. That intrepid attack of Poland upon Russia, M. Briand assured his six quiet and audacious and the rest of us, a violent invasion of western civilization by Russia.

"There were those in Germany," he said, "who beckoned them on." The French had saved us from that. The French army, with its gallant leadership, was the peacemaker and guardian of all Europe. One listened incredulously to the over again from the interpreter. Yes, we were confirmed, he really had said that.

Poor, exhausted Russia, who saved France, destined nothing but to be left alone, bled white, starving, invaded by a score of subsidized adventures, invaded from Esthonia, from Poland, from Japan, in Murmansk, in the Crimea, in the Ukraine, on the Volga, incessantly invaded. It is this Russia which has put France upon the offensive—defensive.

"Even Yanks Can Comprehend."

One is reminded of the navy who looked his wife to death to protect himself from her violence. (It is interesting to recall here that one of the French favorite excuses for German armament, when it was Germany and not France which aspired to dominate Europe, was his acute dread of the yellow peril.)

When he talked to the journalists in preparation for this display M. Briand accused France for wanting submarines in quantity because, he said, she was liable to attack upon three coasts. But mature reflection omitted this aspect of the French case from M. Briand's oration. It was too thick even for an American audience.

And even Mr. Briand, with all his charming tenderness for a fellow statesman, could not well have avoided the plain question: "From whom does France anticipate a sea attack?"

France is in about as much danger of an attack upon her three coasts as the United States is upon her Canadian frontier. Her ships are as safe upon the sea as a wayfarer on 5th avenue. If she builds submarines now she builds them to attack British commerce and for no other reason whatever. All the Ludendorffs and Soviets in the world do not justify a single submarine.

I will confess that I am altogether perplexed by the behavior of France at the present time. I do not understand what she believes she is doing in Europe, and I do not understand her position in this conference. Why could she not have cooperated in this conference instead of making it a scene of special pleading?

More Foreign than Others.

I have already said that the French here seem to be more foreign than any other people and least in touch with the general feeling of the assembly. They seem to have come here as national advocates and special pleaders, without any of that passionate desire to lay the foundations of world settlement that certainly animates nearly every other delegation. They do not seem to understand how people here regard either the conference or France.

There is, indeed, a great and enduring enthusiasm for France in America. Gen. Foch has gone about in America as the greatest of heroes and the most popular of figures. He has been overwhelmed by hospitality and smothered by every honor America could heap upon him. The French flag is far more in evidence than the British in both New York and Washington.

This may easily give French visitors the idea that they are exceptional favorites here and that France can count upon American backing in any quarrel she chooses to pick with the British, or the Germans, or Russians.

There could be no greater error. The enthusiasm for Foch is largely personal; he was the general of all the allies; the enthusiasm for France is largely traditional, and it does not extend to the French nationalist of the present day.

Soothes the Former France.

America loves, as all liberal and intelligent men throughout the world must love, France the great liberator of men's minds, France of the great revolution, the France of art and light, France the beautiful and the gallant.

It is hard to write bitterly of a country that can give the world an Anatole France, a balanced and a gentleman as the late Robert d'Humieres. But where is that France today? None of that France has come to the Washington conference, but only an impenitent apologist.

BRITISH ACCEPT NAVAL PROGRAM WITH NO CHANGE

Oppose Japan's Plea to Modify It.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—There will be no compromise of the 5-5-3 ratio of capital ships, as proposed in the American naval limitation plan for the United States, Great Britain, and Japan.

This was assured today, when Great Britain seconded the emphatic stand taken by the United States, in the face of Japan's plea for a greater allowance of capital ships, that the only way to stop the mad race for naval supremacy was to stop building warships and to adhere to the existing relation of naval strength.

Great Britain, following a conference between Secretary Hughes and Mr. Balfour, let it be known that they will support the Hughes proposal to retain the existing capital ship ratio of the three naval powers unreservedly.

Kato Asks Modification.

Mr. Hughes has conferred on the subject with Admiral Baron Kato of Japan, who asked that Japan be granted a little more than 60 per cent of battleship power. This conference is said to have cleared the atmosphere regarding the American program from a Japanese standpoint, and to have made assurance that there will be a satisfactory agreement reached on reduction of naval armaments.

There is a suggestion, however, that some concession may be made which might change the reduction plan with respect to capital ships without altering the ratio. Japan's suggestion that she be allotted a little more than 60 per cent is said to be based primarily upon her desire to save the new dreadnaught Mutou, now nearing completion.

Each May Keep One.

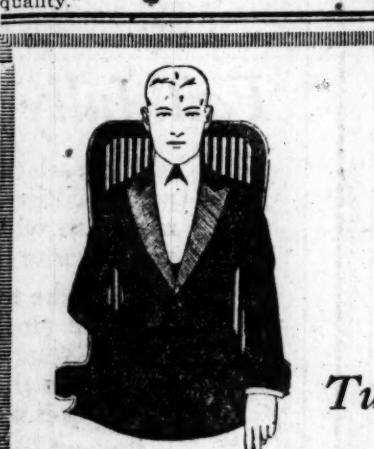

If Japan insists upon saving the Mutou she may be permitted to keep the ship. But if Japan gets the Mutou the United States will be permitted, under the revised plan, to keep the new Colorado, a 23,600-ton ship, with eight sixteen inch guns. England, under such an arrangement, would be accorded an additional capital ship, now scheduled for the scrap heap. Thus would the 5-5-3 ratio be maintained but each of the powers would have a little more naval strength.

DON'T EAT TURK TILL CHRISTMAS, POOLE'S ADVICE

Wait until Christmas to eat turkey and thereby fool the profiteers and get a bird at a reasonable figure, is the advice of Russell J. Poole, city high cost of living expert, given yesterday to Chicago housewives.

"With corn selling at a fraction of its price last year, turkeys ought to be from 35 to 40 cents a pound," said Mr. Poole. "But they are selling for nearly twice that. This is caused by the middle man taking his usual big profit. Fine weather should allow the turkeys to chase the wily bugs in the fields into this year, and by Christmas the birds will be heavier, cheaper, and of better quality."

HERO OF ITALY BIDS SMILING ADIEU TO CITY

Triumphal Reception of Diaz Ends.

After a riotous two days of receptions, speeches, and parades, in which he was hailed by Chicago Italians as the savior of Italy, Gen. Armando Diaz, commander in chief of the Italian armies, bid Chicago a smiling farewell at the Union station last night.

Yesterday morning was given over to a trip to the stock yards where the general inspected the making of the sausage which he said had saved the Italian armies during the critical days of the war. At noon he spoke to members of the Association of Commerce and immediately after that went first to Lincoln park and then to Chicago university. At the park he laid floral wreaths on the statues of Lincoln and Garibaldi.

Impressive Ceremony.

The placing of the wreaths was the most impressive ceremony of the day. Alighting from his automobile in Lincoln park, the general with his staff walked to the statue of Lincoln. Pausing a second to salute the great man, the general quickly picked up the wreath and placed it at the foot of the statue.

As he stepped back a woman ran forward and fell sobbing at his feet. She began to speak but was stopped by her tears. An aid lifted her to her feet.

My brother was killed in the Italian army during the 1918 offensive," she said.

At the statue of Garibaldi a woman with a 3 year old child in her arms was waiting. With a kindly smile Gen. Diaz picked up the little girl and kissed her on both cheeks. Then he returned her to the mother. The mother said her name was Mrs. Marie Cowlast, 1235 West Taylor street. The child's name was Frances.

Optimism was the keynote of the remarks made by the general in his speeches.

"I have great faith in human nature," he declared at the university. "I believe that the day will come when the passions of war will be extinguished. On that day the arms will fall from the armed men of the world and the dawn of lasting peace will be at hand."

Immediately before his speech at the university he was presented with a memorial by President Harry Pratt Judson. President Judson said: "The great world would have been lost had not Italy entered with her forces and enthusiasm."

ANNUAL DRIVE PLANNED FOR CHARITY WORK

Plans for following the custom adopted by Cleveland, Detroit and other cities in raising funds for philanthropic work by a yearly drive instead of by asking contributions throughout the year were discussed yesterday at the annual meeting of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies.

The council plans to take testimony from a number of cities before inaugurating the "one-year drive" system. Fred H. Butzel, director of the Detroit Community union, yesterday told the members how the centralization of work in that city had increased the number of contributors and amounts contributed.

Willoughby G. Walling, president of the Morris Plan bank, was elected president of the council and Wilfred S. Reynolds, for eight years general superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, director.

WORLD WAR IF JAPS UNCHECKED —NORTHCLIFFE Must Quit Shantung, He Says.

(Copyright, 1921, by United News.)

SHANGHAI, Nov. 21.—A warning that Great Britain, the United States and France must stand firmly together in opposition to Japan's attempts to control the far east was given by Viscount Northcliffe in an interview with the United News upon his arrival here from Peking.

Among other striking declarations resulting from the noted British publisher's study of conditions in the Pacific are these:

"Unless Japan leaves Shantung there can be no hope of peace in the far east."

"The Anglo-Japanese alliance has aided, not deterred, Japan in accomplishing her militaristic ambitions."

"Great Britain, America, and France must be prepared to refuse any attempt by Japan to carry out the ambitious program she has so efficiently begun."

Japan's Tentacles Wide.

"If you look at a recent map of the far east showing all the alterations during the Anglo-Japanese alliance," Northcliffe said, "you will find that Japan controls eastern Asia north from Shanghai including southern Szechuan, dominating the Manchukuo government at Vladivostok, and controlling Dairen, Tsing Tao, Chemulpo, Shantung, and Port Arthur."

"Japan is supreme in Tsing Tao and along 400 kilometers (250 miles) of railway which traverse China's sacred and richest province, from Shantung to Tsinan Fu, where there are barracks and a wireless station maintained within a hundred yards of the Tien Tsin-Pukow railway."

"It is a very strategic locality where the Japanese troops are maintained. They swagger about the district fully armed in true Prussian fashion, as though they owned it."

At Chinese Pittsburgh.

"In addition, the Japanese have interior stations, such as the wireless at Hankow, where both infantry and cavalry are also maintained near the iron mines. Imagine foreign troops with wireless stations at Pittsburgh."

"Japan is willing to leave Shantung—if hard pressed."

"Great Britain at Wei Hai Wei and Hongkong, America in the Philippines and France in Indo-China must be prepared to refuse, either militarily or economically, any attempt by Japan to control the far east and carry out the ambitious program she has so efficiently begun."

"Fine words mean very little to Japanese diplomats. Remember that one of the objects of the Anglo-Japanese treaty was to preserve the independence of Korea. Where is that independence now?"

"The whole story of the Anglo-Japanese agreement is one of promises which have been broken. Under that agreement Japan swore to support the 'open door' policy. The door is closed today by subsidized railways plus steamship lines controlled by the Japanese government."

RESUME PLEAS IN INJUNCTION OF PRINTERS TODAY

Arguments will be resumed this morning before Judge Oscar M. Torrey on the application of seventeen members of the trade composition group of the Franklin association for an injunction restraining the association from entering into any agreement with Chicago Typographical union No. 16 which contains the "struck shop" clause. This clause prevents union men from working on jobs which originate in "open shops" or shops where strikes are in progress.

The Champlin Law Printing company, one of the complainants, withdrew from the suit. The complainants charge the clause is a violation in that it restrains trade. The union says it is an attempt to force an "open shop" in the printing industry via the injunction route.

FRENCH WORRIED BY HUGO STINNES' VISIT TO LONDON

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, Nov. 21.—According to the foreign office, Hugo Stinnes is in London for two reasons, the first, to discuss American, British, and German cooperation and exploitation, the second, as the leader of the influential party of Germany, to seek more friendly relations between Germany and England. On the latter point French official circles are distinctly nervous.

Herr Stinnes in private conversations has said that Russia is ready to rebuild industry and that there must be three cornered assistance with large American banks financing the ventures. He believes the Standard Oil company, the General Electric company, the International Harvester company, the American Radiator company, and other large American firms operating in Germany can help extensively in putting Russia on its feet.

Her Hurt His Case.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The condition of the witness for the state today at the trial of Fatty Arbuckle on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, Chicago actress, following a whisky party in the comedian's room at the St. Francis hotel on Labor day.

The testimony of one witness, Miss Zey Prevost, showed that she was under a skillful cross-examination by Gavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, because what may prove to be a boomerang for the prosecution and strongly in favor of Arbuckle. The crowd which packed the courtroom was treated to an exhibition of relentless questioning, which developed the fact that Miss Prevost had been "impounded" by the district attorney, and had changed her testimony before the grand jury under threats which made her story of the girl party inimical to the defense's interests.

First Witness of the Day.
Miss Prevost, strolling into court unconcernedly, five minutes late, was the first witness to take the stand. She came boldly at the defendant, who looked and turned nervously away. Then, calmly and in a drawing tone, she gave the most damning evidence yet adduced against Arbuckle.

"I'm dying," she quoted Virginia Rappe, after she had been found, apparently suffering great pain. Later the witness said Miss Rappe sobbed, "He hurt me." Whereupon Arbuckle told her, gruffly:

"Shut up or I'll throw you out of the window."

She also told of Arbuckle placing a piece of ice on the girl's body, saying: "This will bring her out of it." Miss Prevost said she did not know Virginia Rappe and told of arriving at the party about 1:30 p. m. Sept. 5. Arbuckle, Miss Rappe, Mrs. Delmont, Lowell Sherman, Al Semmacher, and Fred Fishback were there, she said. Arbuckle was dressed in a bathrobe and pajamas, and food and drinks were being served lavishly, she said, and went on:

Girl Goes Into Death Room.
"About 2:30 I saw Virginia Rappe go to the bathroom of 1221," the witness said. "Lowell Sherman, Alice Lake, and Arbuckle were in 1220. Miss Delmont was in that bathroom changing her clothes and Miss Rappe went to room 1219. She was followed by Arbuckle."

"I did not count how many drinks Virginia took, but before she went into room 1219 everyone was eating and drinking and dancing. Arbuckle sent for a violin and the music was going fast of the time."

"About a half hour later Mrs. Delmont went to the door. She asked that I be opened. Then she looked at the door and said: 'Open the door!'"

"Arbuckle opened the door. He was smiling at his bathrobe and said nothing. Miss Rappe was lying on the largest of two beds in the room fully clothed, her hair down, and her hands on her stomach."

"She said: 'I am dying! I am going to die!'"

"She then started to tear off her waist, stockings, and garters. After she had done so, she lay on her back, her arms outstretched, and her head thrown back. She was dead."

HEROES' SALE TODAY

Disabled veterans in the government hospital at 47th street and Drexel boulevard completed a great collection of articles yesterday to be sold to Christmas shoppers at Medinah Temple throughout the day. Proceeds will go to the veterans for spending money.

The sale will begin at noon and the program of the benefit performance at 2 o'clock. The veterans in the photo are (left to right) G. J. Rowbottom and Helmer Flood.

we had moved her to the second bed we gave her some soda. Then we gave her a cold bath.

Arbuckle came in laughing while we were tearing off her clothes and helped tear off a sleeve of her waist. Mr. Fishback took the girl from Miss Blake and placed her in the cold bath."

McNab Begins Attack.
It was this point that Attorney McNab moved to the attack. He charged that District Attorney Brady had framed evidence against Arbuckle, had frightened the witness into making untrue statements, had threatened her with jail if she did not make a certain statement she did not wish to make, and had kept both Miss Prevost and Miss Alice Blake, another witness, in custody against their desires.

He also attempted to show that Miss Prevost changed her testimony before the grand jury after she had been threatened if she did not quote Miss Rappe as saying, "I'm dying, I'm dying; he killed me," that she had at first refused, and that later after a star chamber session she had agreed.

McNab won quite a victory when he forced the state to give him the transcript of the evidence before the grand jury. The witnesses had testified on direct examination that Miss Rappe had screamed, "I'm dying, I'm dying; he hurt me!" but that this happened after Fred Fishback had put the young woman into a cold bath and had carried her back to bed. With the time set it became apparent that the remark might have referred to Fishback rather than to Arbuckle.

"Wanted Key to Her Room."
The prosecution's "surprise" witness of the day was Jesse K. Norgard, janitor of a motion picture studio in Culver City. When court recessed for the night, the attorneys were bitterly disputing as to the admissibility of his evidence, but he had been permitted to testify that more than two years ago Fatty had offered him a roll of bills for the key to Miss Rappe's room, saying he wished to play a joke on her.

Others who testified earlier in the proceedings were:

Miss Blake, a member of the fatal party, who repeated practically what Miss Prevost did. She will go on the stand again tomorrow.

Dr. Edward Castle, who said he was summoned to the sanitarium where Miss Rappe had been taken, but arrived after her death. The doctor said discolorations were found on the girl's arm between the elbow and shoulder.

Dr. Francis Wakefield, proprietor of the sanitarium, said the actress apparently was in good health, all her organs being sound. He thought the rupture of her bladder was caused by "application of some external force."

Mrs. Joseph Harvejec, housekeeper for the dead actress, said Miss Rappe was afflicted with an abscess last June, and was told to undergo an operation by a doctor.

THANKSGIVING

Does It
Merely Mean:

"The Last Thursday in November—and a Holiday"?

Over 300 years ago the Pilgrim Fathers landed on the iceclad rocks of Plymouth, weak and exhausted, poorly armed, scantily provisioned, without shelter, without means, surrounded by hostile tribes. Their venture was more than mere adventure—they were intent upon a purpose well known to those familiar with the persecution and intolerance of those early days. From a beginning so feeble, so frail, so worthy, there has gone forth a progress so steady, a growth so wonderful, a reality so important! And our THANKSGIVING of today had its inception three centuries ago—when our forefathers, in gratitude, gave thanks that their prayers had been answered.

THE SPIRIT OF
today is as it was three centuries ago. Have we all not much to be thankful for? I, for one, take this means of expressing my keen appreciation for my gratifying success.

This Is the First Thanksgiving That

DeMet's

Has Ever Celebrated!

On December 15, 1920, I opened my first store in Chicago—and in less than a year I have built a business of which I am justly proud. No egotism prompts this seeming praise of self. But, like our forefathers centuries ago, my "pilgrimage" was prompted by a principle. This principle was to serve the public in a way that was worthy of attainment.

CANDIES

Of the kind I sell at prices usually asked by others for much inferior grades have stamped the name of DE MET'S as a PIONEER in the candy industry in Chicago. Withstanding the trials and tribulations that ever beset the arduous paths of a new enterprise, I have weathered the storm and have "landed the business" on the shores of success. Therefore this THANKSGIVING is fraught with meaning for me and I am glad of this opportunity of thanking my ever-increasing clientele for their great loyalty and kind patronage.

"ARTHUR C. LUEDER, Postmaster."

The above legend, in poster form, is to be placed at the windows of branch postoffices throughout Chicago. Mr. Lueder announced last night.

"The great majority of the postal employees are doing their best to be courteous, and the great majority of the public are helping them," said Mr. Lueder.

Chinese delegates said tonight the program was a long step in the right direction. Admitting that the program supports the status quo, they declare they will not be kept from bringing up the things they regard as special evils at present.

The Chinese declare they will not be bound by this program if it is interpreted as precluding discussion of Japanese withdrawal from Shantung, the discussion of the twenty-one demands and tariff autonomy.

Baron Kato of the Japanese delegation said afterwards that they were "perfectly satisfactory to Japan."

"Do they close the door to discussion of subjects not mentioned?" he was asked.

Many Ways of Understanding.

"There are many ways of interpreting them," he said. "You have the right of your own interpretation."

Evidently Baron Kato reserves this right for Japan also, and it looks as if Japan had the other powers with her in the plan to shut off discussion of unpleasant and protracting subjects.

Here for the first time the American hand is shown. The Chinese tonight still express the belief and hope that their case will be heard sympathetically by America. But it is significant that this program looks only to the future and could only apply to the present and past by consent of the committee.

THESE WORDS WERE COSTLY.

BLACK BORDERED ENVELOPES TELL JEW OF FAMINE

Black bordered envelopes were delivered to 22,000 Jewish homes in Chicago yesterday. Those who received them found them to contain news of the 300,000 Jews dying or near death from starvation, exposure and disease in eastern Europe.

The drive of the Chicago committee of the Jewish relief, for $1,500,000, will be formally opened Dec. 4, when Julius Rosenwald, honorary chairman of the committee, will preside at a meeting of the workers.

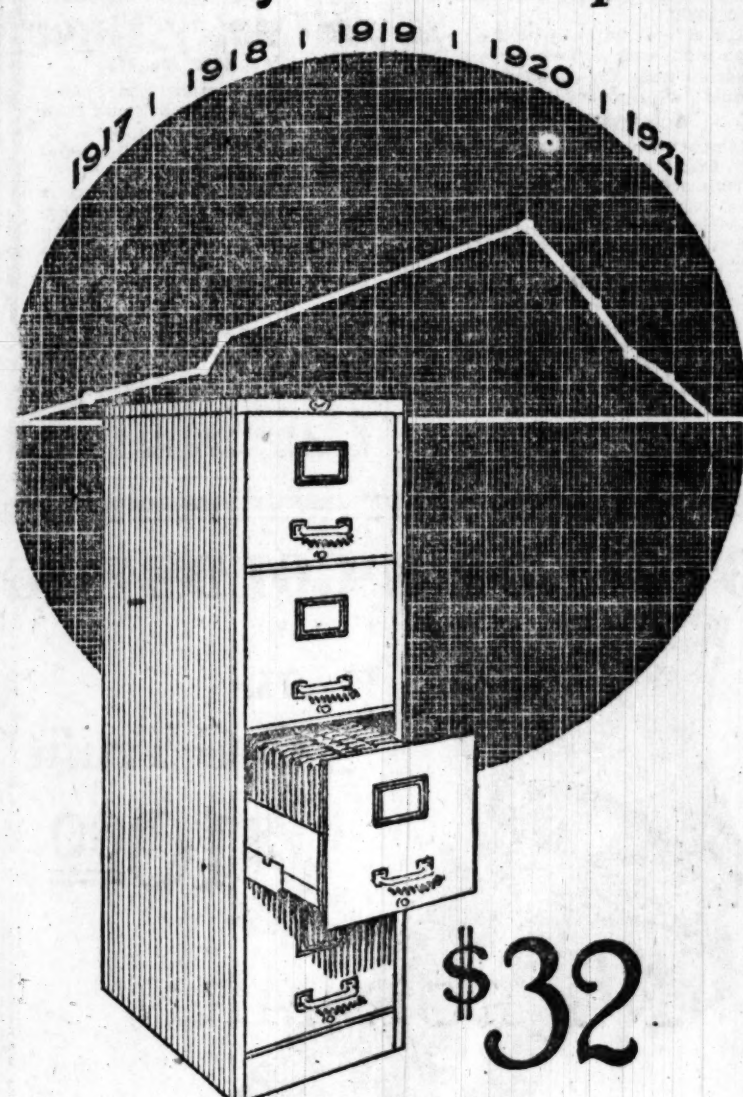

Australian Says Neutral Pacific Will Assure Peace

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Neutralization of the Pacific was declared tonight by Senator G. F. Peck, Australian delegate to the Washington conference, to be the most effective means of assuring peace in the far east.

Japan, in his opinion, Senator Peck said, was in good faith voicing her desire at the conference for a peaceful solution of Pacific and far eastern problems.

Success of the conference, he said, was vital for Australia because of her 12,000 miles of coast line.

DEBATE ON FORD PUTS SENATORS NEAR FISTICUFFS

Watson Says He Robbed Nation in War.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Charges by Senator Watson of Georgia that Henry Ford "robbed the government" during the war precipitated a hot debate in the senate today and threatened at one time to lead to a fight.

Senator Williams of Mississippi defended Mr. Ford. He recalled the days when, he said, the senator from Georgia was "running with Henry Ford against the country and in the interest of peace with the common enemy."

"The senator knows that is not true," shouted Senator Watson, leaping to his feet and advancing in Senator Williams' direction.

"What's not true?" demanded Senator Williams.

"That I ever ran with Mr. Ford against my country," replied Senator Watson.

Urged Resistance to Draft.
"Well, I'll take back what I said about Mr. Ford," said Senator Williams, "but I say that the senator from Georgia was running a newspaper in which he urged the people of Georgia to resist the draft law and other activities during the war."

With a half dozen senators clamoring for order, Senator Watson rose again and cried:

"The senator knows that what he says is not true."

The presiding officer rapping vigorously for order succeeded in restoring order and Senator Williams disappeared into the Democratic cloakroom.

Senator Heflin of Alabama gained recognition and physical violence was averted.

Aroused by Newberry Case.
The outbreak came during the debate on the question of allowing Truman Newberry to retain his seat as senator from Michigan. Henry Ford has been contesting Mr. Newberry's right to the seat and Senator Watson took occasion to pay his respects to the Detroit automobile manufacturer. He declared that the war department records show that Henry Ford robbed the government.

Senator Watson said it was stated

GIVEN A SEE

THE RT. REV. A. J. MCGAVICK.
[Stevens Photo.]

THE RT. REV. ALEXANDER J. MCGAVICK was promoted yesterday to be bishop of the diocese of La Crosse, Wis. One of the best known of the Catholic clergy in Chicago, since 1899 he has been auxiliary bishop of the Chicago diocese and pastor of Holy Family church.

Bishop McGavick will succeed the late Bishop Schwabach and his place as auxiliary bishop in Chicago will be taken by the Rt. Rev. Edward F. Hoban, until his elevation to the episcopacy, chancellor of the diocese. Bishop McGavick was born at Fox Lake, Ill., Aug. 22, 1863. He was ordained priest in 1887 after having graduated from St. Viator's college.

that Mr. Ford contributed $50,000 to Woodrow Wilson's campaign fund in 1916 at the personal request of Joseph P. Tumulty.

"Did that liberal gift have anything to do with keeping Henry Ford's son out of the army when so many hundreds of thousands of other men's sons were in the army, thousands of them fighting, suffering, dying in Flanders and in France, while Edsel Ford was continuing to make tin Lizies to run against golden chariots?"

"What else did Henry Ford get out of Wilson's honest patriotic administration? It was reported that he got $14,000,000 for the construction of Eagle boats which were either useless or not constructed, and when that fact was brought home to Henry Ford he said he was going to return the money to Uncle Sam. I was anxious to have a front seat and see Henry do that, but he has not done it.

"Let us come to something more specific, proved by the records of the war department. The Ford Motor company, according to the war department, received from Wilson's administration $249,000 for tools, which were never delivered. I suppose Henry has them yet. He also has the money unless he has spent it on this election."

"The Ford Motor company, for tractors: Number delivered, none. Amount paid, $1,209,000. Where are these tractors? They might be converted into golden chariots for all I know. The Ford Motor company for spare parts: Number delivered, none. Amount paid, $5,517,000. These facts came from the war department to congressmen, and they came out after the fishing trip which Mr. Ford took with President Harding. If President Harding now knows the facts, Henry Ford may not again go fishing with him."

Government Sleuths Work.

Sensor Watson declared that the department of justice kept a large number of detectives at work in Michigan to gather evidence against Mr. Newberry and A. Mitchell Palmer, then attorney general, spent nearly $400,000 in his efforts to convict Newberry.

"Mr. Ford," Senator Watson continued, "is a man who brought libel suit against a certain newspaper in Chicago. He went on the witness stand, was sworn and examined in his own behalf, and according to the newspapers he swore that he did not know how to read. He is as marvelous as a witness as he has been a marvelous gatherer of gold. Talk about golden chariots! The Newberry family could hardly furnish pin money for the Ford family."

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

1—Build the Subway Now.

8 TO 5 AGAINST U. S.

Emphasis in the news of the Washington arms conference upon the necessity of scrapping the Anglo-Japanese alliance, with about half of the navy, reflects a growing realization in the United States of the importance of this alliance to our safety and welfare. The popular American reaction to the Hughes program has been almost unanimously favorable. As the conference has proceeded, however, with daily evidence of Japan's intention to obtain a larger proportional naval strength than that suggested, and with broader discussion and understanding of the facts, it is becoming evident to Americans that continuation of the present Anglo-Japanese pact is of primary importance.

We now realize that continuation of this alliance will make Great Britain and Japan potential allies against the United States, and actual allies in the far as England supplies material to build up Japan's sea power. In such circumstances we are forced to the belief that the 8-5-3 program for the United States, Great Britain, Japan, is potentially a 8-8 program for the United States against a British-Japanese alliance.

If the United States were on the verge of bankruptcy we might even accept the short end of such a program in the vague hope of peace, but we are not on the verge of bankruptcy. We have far greater available resources in money and material than Britain and Japan together. We are now embarked on a navy building program which will make our navy the greatest in the world. We can carry out that program with much less difficulty than either England or Japan can complete their programs. When we offer to give it up, therefore, we prove our sincerity.

But if we go through with the Hughes program and voluntarily accept naval inferiority to Britain when we are on the way to becoming superior, and then find Britain and Japan associated with a strength of 8 to 5 against us, there will be serious popular reaction, which will denounce the treaty by a majority as great as that which repudiated the Wilson program. Our offer is supported in good faith by popular opinion, but it will not be so supported if our navy is to face a possible combination of the other two navies. Such a combination would mean the world dominance which the Japanese naval officer had in mind when he proposed the treaty: "May the island empire rule the world."

ITALY FOR RESTORATION.

Chicago has just paid tribute to an Italian war hero. It is well at the same time to call attention to the most admirable showing Italy has made in getting back to a peace footing. For Italy has been carrying on quietly her own program of armament limitation. As Gen. Diaz reminds us, Italy has already ceased her naval building and what is still more important, has reduced her army to one-third its pre-war strength and is spending, as he says, barely one-third of the amount expended on her army before the war.

This, it seems to us, is sound and farseeing statesmanship, for which the world may well be grateful and which Americans especially will applaud. The Italians also have come through one of the most dangerous and difficult industrial upheavals, her statesmen handling the crisis with tact, courage, and good sense which have saved Italy from communist ruin and set her feet once more, and we trust firmly, in the path of restoration and progress.

The best thought of America and Italy unite on this plane and the two countries should cooperate usefully for the stabilization of western society. Italy is showing an intelligent conception of the principles of restoration and modern progress, which is more than can be said of some other European nations, and her efforts to build a strong and sound structure of national life and effort deserve our hearty sympathy and all the aid we can give.

NO BEER FOR YOUR STOMACH'S SAKE.

Congress has voted to close the medicinal breweries which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon opened. Forty rod liquor may be bought as medicine, but wine and beer may not be. Some physicians say that beer has no medicinal value. They also say that whiskey has none. Congress, being its own doctor, says that whiskey has, and beer has not.

Many prohibitionists say that beer is worse than whiskey, considered as a social evil. This theory never quite got into the realm of the explicable, but the theorists have it. Most of them, professing to lifing testimonial, can hardly assert that they know it subjectively. A study of vital statistics may have given congressional nonreforming minds to what will occur, at least as an attractive speculation, that if alcohol is highest will be worse than the beverages in which its content is lowest. Other-wise it would seem that the Volstead virtue of one-half of 1 per cent was destined of all.

In most matters pertaining to prohibition speculation must be stopped if sanity is to be preserved. The vehemence with which congress attacked medicinal beer and wine was worthy of an attack upon a jar of gold fish, and the brew takes the count. If the unarmed citizenry of this country wants to drink let it drink forty rod liquor, formaldehyde and alcohol, or moonshine.

There is only one ground upon which Dr. Congress, deciding that whiskey is medicine and beer and wine are not, can stand with even one leg. That is a confession that the United States can make laws but not enforce them, and that consequently the release of medicinal beer would simply mean that every able bodied citizen of the country, at least semi-sober, could get all the beer he wanted at all times.

If that is the case it would be better and cleaner to amend the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of at least a 3 per cent or 4 per cent beer.

Congress does not reveal any inspiration in that direction. All it indicates is an intent to confine the drinking in the United States to hard liquor, illegally obtained.

WESTERN FOOTBALL.

It is conceded now that western football is good. All football has become uncertain. The open game may have caused that. The football of twenty years ago was almost a certainty. The best team always won and if a game were repeated would win a second or a third time. The better baseball team might be defeated in a game and a series of games would be needed for it to make its superior skill apparent, but the better football team won because it was the better team.

The year the University of Michigan had a scoring machine which ran up 500 points that team could have started the season all over again and repeated its performance. The days of such perfect dependability are gone and the game itself is more attractive. Good football has extended to all parts of the country.

Centre college of Kentucky, the incredible David of the colleges, defeats Harvard. The University of Chicago defeats Princeton. Princeton defeats Harvard. Yale defeats Princeton. Harvard defeats Yale. Ohio State defeats the University of Chicago. The University of Chicago defeats the University of Illinois. The University of Illinois defeats Ohio State. No fixed relations have been established. The games were good games. The teams were good teams.

The west proves that it knows football and plays as good football as the east.

In view of this, the college authorities should schedule more intercollegiate games. They will encourage national solidarity.

THE TRIAL OF RADICALS.

The Sacho-Vanzetti rumpus seems to us to indicate that the world is suffering from neurosis. Both men were tried under the normal forms of our law and convicted of a crime. They were held guilty of murder beyond a reasonable doubt by twelve American citizens who heard all the evidence. We do not think Sacho and Vanzetti are entitled to any greater safeguards than any American citizen enjoys under American law. It is a law extremely concerned for the safety of the individual and his rights, to an extent indeed which makes law-breaking a safer gamble than in any other country.

But we are asked to believe that because these two men were slackers and revolutionists they were not given a fair trial. We are told the bolsheviks especially make this charge and disseminate it throughout Europe. Considering what the bolsheviks have done to justice in Russia, slaughtering men and women by the thousands without even the form of a trial, we are less impressed with this charge than the parlor pinks among our fellow citizens.

In practical consequence, the adoption of this theory would make it impossible to punish any revolutionist or traitor or slacker for it must be assumed in each case that the culprit's conduct has prejudiced normal citizens against him.

Yet Sacho and Vanzetti and men of that ilk hold that no revolutionist ought to respect the law of a capitalist country. Without scruple and in fact holding it to be a duty to ignore capitalist law, crime does not exist for them. It is legitimate class war. Yet, we must infer, that having acted according to their code, they cannot be punished because a jury is virtually certain to be prejudiced against them.

Fortunately for American labor and for America, this reductio ad absurdum of radical thought does not appeal to American common sense. American labor helped to fight the great war, at the front and at home. It helps to make American law and lives at peace under it. When foreign radicals, domiciled comfortably in our country, set their threats abroad to murder our representatives and stir up hatred against our country, the American citizen, wage earner or other, keeps his head. European Reds may murder a minister or try to, but they will not advance their cause or save duty convicted men by their violence. If Sacho and Vanzetti were not proved guilty of crime according to our law, they will be given a new trial under our law—not otherwise.

Meanwhile we should say that the man Gebelow, who passes under the alias Lyons, the Spaniard and the Italian, his associates, having shown that they are in this country and the enemies of our people, belong to the class of undesirable and should be deported. We imagine that the silly sensation seeking women who financed the trio will return to that domesticity which would better become their sex.

Editorial of the Day

SIXTY PER CENT INEFFICIENT.

[New York World.]

From the time of his appointment as director of the budget, Gen. Charles G. Dawes has been looked on in official circles as a man certain to make a record. He is living up to these gloomy expectations. Not content with having pointed out how appropriations for government departments could be reduced, after thorough investigation he has prepared a report in which, first, he finds that fully 60 per cent of the government's clerical force is inefficient, and second, he recommends that examinations be held for all departments in order to rid the service of incompetent employees.

This is a violent and revolutionary proposal that could only come from a person who believed in business methods. If Gen. Dawes were more of a politician he would never have suggested so sweeping a reformation. Every head of a department in Washington for many years has known that the bureaus were cluttered with deadwood and that with smaller forces of efficient workers the government's business could be better and more economically done. It was easy to see the need of a change, but nothing was ever done.

Certainly it would not seem unreasonable that department clerks and other employees of the government should periodically take examinations to test their fitness to retain their positions. But under the civil service system the man or woman who becomes a place holder may be a fixture for life. There is no great call for ambition or effort merely to remain on the government payroll, and inefficiency thrives because of the want of means for correcting it.

The remedy seems very simple and Gen. Dawes wants to see it applied without discrimination. It would probably have made no difference with him if he had stopped to consider that the government employees in Washington—tens of thousands of them—will rise in rebellion like one man, and that members of congress, without regard to party, will rush to the assistance of their beloved constituents. The trouble is that with the director of the budget business is business, but in Washington politics is the main business.

The first question obviously would be posed upon the circumstances of the arrival and whom he met. If he met, say, Jim Durkin, he would, of course, ask, "Where's the first?" Whereas, if he met a colporteur the inevitable greeting would be: "Say, I heard a good one today."

MORE HEADACHE RELIEF.

If the people with headaches due to digestive troubles, not all are due to eating too much starch or too much meat. According to Brown there are two other sub-groups in this large division. The first is composed of those whose headaches are due to putrefactions taking place in the large intestine. Dr. Brown says he has seen two such cases, in both of which each attack of headache lasted four or five days. The patients were compelled to remain in bed, and when they recovered he found that they had lost five to ten pounds. Each of these patients failed to get benefit from the use of purgatives. They were not cured until they had submitted to operations for the removal of appendices or for opening into and washing out the large intestine.

Dr. Bastedo thought that intestinal putrefactions were a frequent cause of headaches. The treatment which a large proportion of sufferers speedily learn by experience to follow is to take a cathartic and to eat no food, or none except a little tea and toast.

Dr. Alvarez does not agree with either Dr. Bastedo or Dr. Brown as to the reason for the so-called constipation headaches. He says it is due to a reflex irritation from the distended lower bowel and not to the absorption of poisons.

But that is a scientific point in which the sufferer has no special interest. Both agree that the large bowel should be emptied as quickly as possible, some preferring saline purges and some enemas for this purpose. Prompt action of this sort may give almost instant relief.

Dr. Brown's fourth group of headaches was composed of the cases due to meat, liver, sweetbread, kidney, or tripe, eggs, peas, beans, beef, fat, or meat soup. They do well when they live largely on Irish potatoes and other vegetables, fruits, cereals, and milk.

To these groups Dr. Bastedo added a fifth—the people who develop acidosis headaches when they eat a diet containing too much fat. The acidosis headaches get more relief from taking alkalis than they do from anything else that can be given them.

As to the other food headaches, he finds it impossible to stick to groups as closely as Dr. Brown does.

For instance, he knows people who get headaches from eating eggs and who can eat meat with impunity. Eating chicken causes a fair number of people to develop headache, but meat soup or bean soup is a frequent offender.

THE NEED FOR ACTION AT ELLIS

Chicago, Nov. 17.—The letters published by THE TRIBUNE giving information concerning the conditions and experiences of immigrants at Ellis Island certainly did great good. How good, it seems that pressure still needs to be brought to bear upon the authorities.

We have received a letter from the executive committee of the World Alliance for International Friendship among the Nations, New York, and also with the secretary of labor at Washington, and no attention was paid to the communication by either official.

A LOGICAL PROJECT FOR JOBS AND BATTLE CREEK

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 17.—Is the matter of the enlarging of New York City (Manhattan Island), taking in Bedloe's Island, Governor's island, etc., by the filling in system and subways to Staten Island and all the rest of the good things, I notice that President Harding has given his sanction by signature giving them full rein to attempt the wonderful project. The thought occurred to me why not the same thing be done in this country.

TO BRING DOWN COAL PRICES.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Your stand taken in this morning's TRIBUNE under the heading "The Price of Coal" is absolutely right in that the price is entirely too high. May I say that the Black Diamond would like to cooperate with you in getting prices down, but this operation is impossible until we consider where that price goes, since it is impossible to effect a remedy without understanding the cause of the evil.

COUNCIL PROBE AY EXPOSE NEW PAVING SCANDAL

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Several members of the council committee on streets openly charged yesterday that the property owners were being cheated on street pavements. President Faherty of the board of local improvements was present at the committee session part of the time and Oscar Wolf, a member, during the entire session.

"We are paying exorbitant prices for low grade materials," asserted Chairman Toman.

The board paved a system of streets a year ago and they are full of holes already," said Ald. Govier. "A part of Elston avenue is in worse condition now than when it was paved last spring," added Ald. Chabala.

"Between 59th and 63d street, west of Ashland avenue, the curb and gutter have even rotted away," declared Ald. Kovarik.

"The new State street paving, now being laid, will not last a year in good condition," wrote a material company to the committee.

"It's a damned shame the way the taxpayers are being cheated," asserted John J. Sloan of the Wisconsin Granite company.

Mr. Wolf, in the temporary absence of President Faherty, started to explain the complaint of skimping on Ashland avenue, where a pavement has been laid north of 22nd street.

"A good way out for you," interrupted Ald. T. A. Hogan, "is to say that that job was done before this administration came into power."

Former Probe Recalled.

The committee's inquiry started with a rush which gave the impression that it would equal the investigation of Prof. Ira O. Baker in 1918 when it was estimated that the property owners were losing $400,000 annually by skimping in paving work. Faherty then asserted that Baker's report contained false statements and erroneous conclusions. Prof. Charles E. Merriam, who fathered the inquiry dropped out of the council and little has been heard about it since.

Before the meeting adjourned Faherty returned and among other things said that "the board lays the pavement which the people want." Sloan replied: "The efforts to promote sandstone as a pavement here are damnable. On Wood street, north of Archer avenue, sandstone was specified on the request of only two property owners."

"Why was it specified to be used?" asked one of the aldermen.

Act of Friendship.

"Because those promoting it had some friends on the board of local improvements," replied Sloan.

"I presented the ordinance for that pavement," admitted Ald. Mulcahy, who is closely allied with the city administration. "I have never heard any objection. If the people are opposed to sandstone why didn't they come to me, who presented the ordinance? I guess the board gives the people the kind of pavements they want."

"Yes, they do," commented Ald. Flick. "They do not."

"Ald. Coughlin told you at the last meeting how the board overrode the property owners in selecting the material for Wabash avenue and made the property owners take what they did not want," said Ald. Hogan.

To Examine Costs.

Wolf asserted that paving costs are cheaper in Chicago than in any other large city; so the committee, on motion of Ald. Hogan and Kovarik, instructed the board to submit the prices paid in other cities for the last two years on all kinds of pavements and the amount of each kind of paving done. Hogan also had the committee instruct its members to present lists of paving which have "gone to pieces" in the last seven years. Ald. Moran had the committee order the board to report all pavements laid in the last seven years. The inquiry will be continued next Monday.

"SORRY," COPS ALIBI, VET VICTIM OF THIEF SAYS

Isaacson declared he told a policeman in the car what had happened and that the officer merely replied "that happens quite often around here. This is a bad corner."

SENATORS URGE BRENTANO FOR AUSTRIAN ENVOY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Senators McCormick and McKinley of Illinois have recommended the appointment of Judge Theodore Brentano of Chicago as ambassador to Austria. The judge's term on the Chicago bench expires next month. The White House is in receipt of thousands of endorsements of Brentano for the post, and Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee was at the executive office today arranging for a meeting with the President to urge the appointment.

Judge Brentano is of German extraction, having been born in Michigan. Senators McCormick and McKinley paid him a tribute in recommending the appointment. He is understood to be preferred by the President among the candidates under consideration. George Sylvester Viereck and his followers are urging Bernard Heyn of New York for the post and a delegation of the United Societies of American Citizens of German Ancestry visited the President today in behalf of Dr. Emanuel Baruch of New York.

The mark CROMBIE, LTD. (Aberdeen, Scotland), means quality unquestioned in overcoatings, and these are their finest product—quality that wins favor with the most exclusive trade.

We are able to make this extraordinary offering only through unusual circumstances. Our buyer was in New York. An importer was unable to finance this remarkable assortment of CROMBIE fabrics when they reached the Custom House. We bought them—expressed them by truck to our own special shops—had them made up in the best of this season's overcoat styles (as illustrated)—tailoring and trimmings in keeping with CROMBIE fabrics—and here they are! These are the finest overcoatings that have ever been shown in ready-to-wear clothing.

Every pattern is exclusive. Rare colors. Beautiful, soft fleeces that are a treat to feel—that insure snug warmth and smart styles. Plaid backs—so different they can come only from sources where the knack is inbred.

You cannot find the equal of these garments at double their price. We have Fifteen Hundred coats only. They will sell on sight to men who know fine overcoats—that suggests coming early.

LLOYD GEORGE HOPES TO SAIL IN 2 WEEKS FOR U. S.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
LONDON, Nov. 21.—Prime Minister Lloyd George is still determined to go to Washington and he hopes to sail in about two weeks. This information was given to me by a man in the closest touch with the prime minister, who feels that he must go not only because the interests of his country require his presence, but out of courtesy to the United States. He hopes soon to have the Irish situation in such shape that the details can be left to subordinates.

Mr. Lloyd George is troubled over the violent agitation in both England and America in favor of scrapping the Anglo-Japanese alliance. He is willing to let the treaty go, substituting for it a triple entente in the Pacific, but it is feared that the present agitation will only stiffen Japan in the desire to retain the present alliance, making it more difficult for Great Britain to throw Japan over.

Starts New Peace Maneuvers.

The prime minister will meet Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, at an informal conference on Wednesday. He hopes to induce the Ulster leader to enter a more formal meeting and finally a conference with the Sinn Féin. Michael Collins returned from Dublin today and the Irish hope they

O-H-H-H, BOOTLEGGERS! HERE'S HOW TO GIVE "AGE" TO MOONSHINE

Science, properly used in the hands of a "bootlegger," has been able to turn ahead the hands of time and manufacture "twenty-year old" whisky in twenty minutes.

This fact was disclosed yesterday by prohibition agents following the arrest of Dr. August Roach, a physician living at 2128 Lincoln avenue. Apparatus for making the whisky and 300 gallons of highproof spirits were seized in his home.

According to John Kjellander, prohibition enforcement officer, the whisky was made from ordinary moonshine put through an ageing process lasting only twenty minutes. The whisky was put into a container, to which were attached electric wires and oxygen tanks. The electric coils would age the whisky, at the same time bringing a quantity of fuel oil to the top.

will be called into a conference at Downing street tomorrow or Wednesday.

Sectional rioting blazed up again in Belfast this morning and machine guns were used to clear the streets. Three were killed, at least twelve were seriously wounded, and there were many minor casualties.

"Die Hards" Still Busy.
The "die hards" made another attempt today to whip up English support for Ulster. About 2,000 attended a rally of the National Constitutional association at Queen's hall.

GERMANY BOILS WITH FOOD RIOTS, UNREST, STRIKES

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—With the advance of winter discontent and unrest is spreading in Germany. It has come to the notice of the government that strikes, outbreaks of unrest, and perhaps coups d'état must be anticipated. Measures are being taken to deal with such eventualities.

New food riots today followed a week of shop plunderings and attacks on bakeries and shoe stores. Numerous local strikes and the threat of a general strike in central Germany are among the present indications that a serious winter for Germany is ahead.

Raid Biggest Store.

After plundering numerous food stores crowds broke the windows in Wertheim's, Berlin's largest department store. In the clash with the police sixty food plunderers were taken prisoners.

The food riots are a direct result of the fall of German money. As beef, condensed milk, butter, and coffee supplies are exhausted new stocks must be bought with marks at more than 200 to the dollar instead of 80 with the result that the prices of food from foreign countries have doubled and tripled.

Merchants Barred Windows.

The raids caused the most intense excitement through the capital, many merchants barricading their windows. From many parts of the republic come reports indicating that the peace which followed the assassination of Herr Erzberger is being broken. Since the crime the monarchists and revolutionists have been afraid to lift their heads. The monarchists have become more bold. Communist agitators, especially in the Halle central district and the Ruhr district, are urging an uprising. These efforts are being encouraged by outbreaks in the reichstag and Prussian diet by the communist members.

Roads Threaten General Strike.

One hundred participants in the March uprising have begun a hunger strike. At Halle two representatives were chosen by the communist convention to demand the release of the prisoners or to warn the government that a general strike would be called. Fearing mob violence, the government today transferred the hunger strikers from Lichtenburg prison to Fortress Zinna.

ASSAULT CASES POSTPONED.

Cases of Charles Moran, Eugene Welch, and Jerry Deller, charged with assault and battery, were continued in the Maxwell street court yesterday until Dec. 3, at the request of Capt. James Gleason, who desired more time to investigate.

When
Sam Houston
Saved Texas

WHEN Sam Houston saved Texas for the Americans in that historic fight on the banks of the San Jacinto, his valor was rewarded with the presidency of the new "Texas Republic."

The log cabin which served as his presidential "mansion" stood at the edge of a howling prairie and the "capital" was little more than a scattered collection of tents and huts.

Today that sturdy settlement of frontiersmen has become a city whose wealth and beauty far exceed Sam Houston's boldest dreams.

WORLD REDS SING HYMN OF HATE TO SAVE 2 ITALIANS

BY SAMUEL SPEWACK.

ARTICLE III.
(Copyright, 1921: By the Press Publishing Company (the New York World).)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—“Save Sacco and Vanzetti!” The type-writers still clattered in the little office in Boston.

Italy answered with street demonstrations; demands for the boycott of American goods; appeals in the chambers of deputies for governmental intervention in the case. Portugal answered. Holland answered. London answered. Mexico answered. Switzerland answered. Uruguay answered. Belgium, Russia, Porto Rico, Cuba, Algeria.

The three men in Boston had written Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted because they were foreigners.

because they were radicals. The radicals of the world responded. And while decisions upon an appeal for a new trial is still pending, the world even now echoes and retches to the cry from Boston, The Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee—Lyons, Lopes, Pelloni—knew their appeals would be heard. They did not foresee the bloodshed in Paris, the bombing attempt in Lisbon, the wave of violence.

Critical Situation in Italy.

In Italy the situation was and is critical. So insistent was the clamor of protest that the minister of foreign affairs was compelled to reply. He promised, so the newspapers report, that the Italian government would intervene with a plea of mercy if the two men are finally condemned to death.

Detailed accounts of the testimony were carried in all radical newspapers in Rome. The Communist and anarchist organizations spread the propaganda through the streets. At a meeting in Lugo of syndicalists, an “order of the day” said:

“If Italy does not intervene in time to save Sacco and Vanzetti, the Italian proletariat shall use all the means in its power to boycott merchandise from North America.”

Italian radicals complained of the cautious attitude of their government. Said the Umanita Nova: “It means simply that the Italian government wants to divert the attention of the people and smother the national indignation by making it think there is no immediate danger of the electrocution of Sacco and Vanzetti.”

“We repeat that Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted principally because they were Italians, just as Negroes are condemned over there, or revolutionaries condemned by the capitalists because they were workmen.”

Various newspapers referred to the Palmer administration, the arrests and deportations of radicals. They did not say, expect justice from the “republic of the golden calf,” a government “sold to the capitalist interests.”

The Italian uprising followed. Crowds in front of the American embassy in Rome “became menacing,” and it was then “that the police, after several violent collisions, succeeded in dispersing the mob.”

And Switzerland answered. Meetings in Bern, Geneva, Lucerne, were reported in the Il Rieveglio, printed in Geneva in Italian and French. This radical newspaper reported street demonstrations in soviet Russia.

England heard the protest directly from Lyons, the former Columbia student. A long article in the radical journal, Freedom, Brussels heard of it through the Communist organization across the continent. The Third Internationale received the news from myriad sources. It reached Algeria, where Robert Oliver discussed it in his magazine, the Social Struggle. And from Africa one may trace the movement to Mexico, to South America, to Porto Rico.

“Boycott America,” Is Cry.

Montevideo answered with general strikes and a demand for the boycott of American products. The match-workers, the chauffeurs’ unions, issued proclamations. The city was paralyzed for several days.

Mexico answered. The Worker in Mexico spread a two column story, captioned: “A Crime Against North American Imperialism.”

Brazil answered. Havana answered. Maj. Gen. Crowder was threatened and several radicals were arrested. El Progreso of Havana comments that these radicals were mild-tempered, contemplated no violence; that the police overreached themselves. Porto Rico answered with comparatively mild demonstrations. Lisbon answered with an attempt to bomb the home of the American consul general even in London there was a mild demonstration organized by Sylvia Pankhurst. Miss Pankhurst published in her magazine, the Dreadnought, an account of the case and an invitation for sympathizers to march to the American embassy. There was, however, little response.

“Save Sacco and Vanzetti!” traveled into Stockholm, and the syndicalists there protested to the American representatives.

And the three men still sit at the typewriters in the dingy office in Boston, writing, mailing, talking—wondering at the insignificance of oceans.

Church Club to Help in Educating Newsboy
Mike Supan, the 12 year old boy who would rather sell newspapers and sleep in an alley than live at home and go to the Austin High school, has found friends. Frank P. Kennedy, secretary of the Young People’s Social club of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, told Miss Bess C. Sullivan, assistant state’s attorney attached to the juvenile court, in charge of Mike, that part of the funds of a minstrel show given by the club would go to Mike for his education.

Three Die as Result of Automobile Accidents

Chicago’s death toll in motor accidents yesterday was three. Mrs. Bridget Quinn, 68 years old, 120 North Kildare avenue, run down Sunday, died in her home. Fred Hattinger, 23 years old, 1508 North State parkway, died of injuries received when his car was hit by a street car Sunday.

REPORTED TAX BILL PASSED BY HOUSE, 232-109

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The conference report on the tax bill was approved by the house today by a vote of 232 to 109. Eleven Republicans voted with the Democrats against the bill, while four Democrats supported it.

Previous to the final vote a motion by Representative Garner, Texas, to send the bill back to conference met defeat by a vote of 141 to 202. The Garner motion carried with it instructions to the house conference to accept the senate amendment increasing the graduated tax rates applying to large estates. Forty-two Republicans voted in favor, while four Democrats were reported against it.

The conference report will be considered in the senate tomorrow. Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, and a few other Republicans plan to join with the Democrats in opposing the report, but it is probable that the senate will approve it. Final action is likely Wednesday, which will permit adjournment of the special session of congress on that day.

In a four hour debate which preceded the action on the report the Democrats centered their fire on various senate amendments stricken out by the conferees, including the increases in tax rates applying to large estates, the proposed tax on gifts, the provision for the listing of tax exempt securities held by taxpayers, and the provision which would permit either house of congress to obtain original tax returns filed by individuals or corporations.

HUSBAND EXPERT AT PIE HURLING, WIFE CHARGES

In a pie throwing contest, Mrs. Rose Rocklin, 2941 Cortez street, told Judge Thomas G. Lynch yesterday her husband, Abraham Rocklin, was without an equal. She seeks a divorce and Judge Lynch indicated he would grant it. In illustration of his prowess with pies she related an episode she said occurred a few months ago.

"I had just finished baking and did not want to put the hot custard pie in the ice box, so I placed it on the window sill," Mrs. Rocklin testified. "Abe came home and saw the pie. He got mad and said somebody might steal it from the outside. The next thing I knew he had the pie in his hand. I tried to dodge, but it was no use. He can hit anything he aims at with a pie."

Judge Lynch indicated he would grant a divorce.

Kewanee, Ill., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Explosion of pop bottles awakened the family of Gust Brimburg last night just in time to save their lives in a fire which threatened their home. The bottles were on a shelf in a room under their sleeping apartment. When the fire reached them, the noise awoke the entire neighborhood.

Who Pays the Cost of Advertising?

How shall the advertising account be charged? There is a clew to the answer in this fact—advertised brands sell readily and repeat steadily. Unadvertised brands of equal quality sell slowly and repeat still more slowly—sales costs are much greater.

Then, again, dealer prices collected from eleven states show that the consumer pays no more for advertised products than unadvertised. Thus, adequate advertising through sales volume and efficiency finances itself.

The foundation of advertising success is PLAN. And the advertiser, new or experienced, must distinguish between skillfully developed PLAN and hastily devised scheme, or STUNT. Our understanding of business, and merchandising, enables us to develop advertising plans of sound value. We welcome opportunity to discuss our methods.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do no good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or cathartics. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Headaches, "dizziness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" the brain and "perk up" the spirits. 25c and 50c.

U. S. WINS 3 BIG INCOME TAX ON STOCK LAWSUITS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Decisions of the Supreme court today upholding government contentions in three income tax cases will, in the opinion of Solicitor General Beck and treasury officials, go far toward unraveling many perplexing questions arising in stock dividend controversies and result in the recovery by the government of many millions of dollars.

Two of the cases were similar and involved taxation as income of stock owned by stockholders of the Ohio Oil and the Prairie Oil and Gas companies by the Illinois and the Prairie Pipe Line companies, respectively. The pipe line companies were organized by the oil companies after a decision by the Supreme court that the interstate commerce and federal trade commissions had jurisdiction over companies operating pipe lines.

Rockefeller Fought Case.

The government contended the stocks should be classed as income and taxed as such. This contention was opposed by the companies and various stockholders, including John D. Rockefeller. Justice Pitney, delivering the majority opinion, Justices Vanderventer and McReynolds dissenting, said:

"The new stock represented assets of the old company standing in the place of the pipe line properties that before had constituted portions of their surplus assets, and it was capable of division among the stockholders, as the pipe line properties were not. The distribution constituted in the case of each individual a gain in the form of actual exchangeable assets."

It was in substance and effect, not merely in form, a dividend of profits by the corporation and individual income to the stockholders.

Third Case Adjudicated.

The third case grew out of the organization of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder company of Delaware by the parent company of the same name of New Jersey, which turned over to the Delaware corporation all its assets and took in exchange the stock of the new company. The court, in holding the new stock distributed among the stockholders of the parent company subject to the income tax law, said:

"The dividend received by claimant was a gain, a profit, derived from his capital interest in the old company, not in liquidation of the capital, but in distribution of accumulated profits of the company. Hence it constituted individual income."

Estimates were that the government would obtain at least $30,000,000 in taxes from the litigants in the cases decided today, and the adjudication of many claims which have been pending in the treasury department, awaiting the outcome, would total many millions of dollars in addition.

Texas Ku Klux Klansmen Appear in Robes at Burial

Texas, Nov. 21.—Six hooded and robed knights of the Ku Klux Klan appeared at the burial of Dr. L. F. Bois and placed a large cross of red and white roses on the grave. It was said to be the first time the order has been represented publicly in costume at a funeral.

DOVE OF PEACE ISN'T STOPPING AT CRANE HOUSE

Denials of reports of reconciliation between Herbert P. Crane, wealthy Chicagoan, and his divorced wife, the Costa Rican beauty, was made in New York yesterday by Señor Samuel Pisa, the latter's brother.

"The only thing my sister is interested in," he said, "is her legal rights. After the terrible experiences she has undergone, I don't see how a reconciliation is possible."

Impetus was given the reconciliation report when it was learned that both Crane and his divorced wife were in New York.

Pisa said his sister had come back not to seek reconciliation but to obtain the balance of about $70,000 still due her under the decree. Mrs. Crane and her attorney, James Hamilton Lewis, conferred Saturday, he said, and Mr. Lewis was instructed to take steps to get the money due.

The Block Signals Are Working—

In some respects, human experience is like railroad.

Every moment of the business and social day the block signals are giving right of way to keenness and alertness—while the slow and the heavy must wait on the sidetrack for their chance to move forward.

The ability to "go through" and to "get there" depends much on the poise of body, brain and nerves that comes with correct diet and proper nourishment.

That's why so many choose Grape-Nuts for breakfast and lunch. Served with cream or milk it is completely nourishing, partly pre-digested, and it supplies the vital mineral salts so necessary to full nutrition.

Grape-Nuts has a rich, delightful flavor, is ready to serve on the instant—and is distinctly the food for mental and physical alertness and speed. At all grocers.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

Think

while you shovel coal into your furnace:

"Nokol would rid us of this drudgery forever"

IN a Nokol-heated home the drudgery of the furnace is gone forever. Nokol not only gives you clean, even heat, at exactly the temperature you wish—it does this automatically. Your part is no more than an occasional inspection of the simple Nokol mechanism, and seeing that your fuel tank is kept supplied with kerosene.

No amount of expert care of your coal-heating plant would ever give you Nokol's even heat. A coal fire gets hot slowly and cools off slowly. When there is a rapid change of temperature outside, your home will be overheated or underheated.

Set the Nokol thermostat at the degree of heat you wish—Nokol will maintain the temperature at that point

The response of Nokol to the thermostat is instantaneous. A drop of 20 degrees outside will not appreciably affect the temperature determined by your Nokol thermostat. And on warm days of Fall or Spring your Nokol will be using fuel only a small fraction of the time, yet keeping the same even temperature.

And Nokol operation is economical! At present prices of kerosene (Nokol fuel) and coal, Nokol users save about half their usual fuel cost. And remember, you can buy Nokol comfortably; a small deposit, followed by monthly payments, and you enjoy

GOULDS NAMED IN $200,000,000 RAILROAD SUIT

New York, Nov. 21.—Suit for the recovery of $200,000,000, which, it is alleged, is the loss sustained by the Denver and Rio Grande railroad as a result of an unlawful combination and conspiracy on the part of men who served on the directorate of the railroad during the last ten years, was started today in the Supreme court.

The suit named as conspirators in the complaint, which was made by a committee of stockholders, including George J. Gould, Edwin Gould, Kingdon Gould, Edgar L. Marston, Finley J. Shepard, Henry U. Mudge, and Alexander R. Baldwin. The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad company also is named as defendant.

Nine Year Fight.
This action is the climax to the efforts that stockholders have been making over a period of nine years towards having the finances of the company thoroughly investigated and thwart its absorption by the Missouri Pacific.

In 1910 the stockholders' protective committee was organized and the suit brought today is the result of its efforts. Among the members of the committee are George T. Rogers, Joseph J. Slocum, James Nelson, and Benjamin H. Old.

In its complaint the stockholders' committee asserts that for many years the railroad carried on prosperous business and in the ten years from 1910 to 1919 paid preferred dividends in full. The complaint alleges that in 1918 the defendants entered into a conspiracy to wreck in the road and to cause all its properties to be absorbed and wiped out by adverse interests.

Say Road Had Ample Funds.
The complaint says the alleged conspirators, directors of both the Missouri Pacific and the Denver and Rio Grande, caused the latter to default a mortgage interest payment to the Western Pacific, although the road had ample cash resources to meet the same. By this action and succeeding ones, the complaint says, the directors caused foreclosure proceedings to be instituted against the Rio Grande.

In one protest sent to the directors the stockholders' committee wrote: "During the last few months the directors and officers of the Denver and Rio Grande have been mute and immovable while a death blow was being dealt the company. They have supplied allowed properties of tremendous value, doubtless worth $80,000,000, to be sold for the absurd price of $5,000,000 under a defective and unintelligible notice of sale, whereby assets worth millions of dollars were not revealed."

German Reparations to Be Paid by Foreign Loans

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Germany will meet all the payments due in the next few months by the medium of international loans, according to members of the reparations commission. The French do not believe this will benefit the general situation, but they are accepting it because it avoids talk of a moratorium. The members of the reparations commission returned to Paris.

Why My Friends All Take Mastin's Yeast Vitamin Tablets Now

To Make Firm Flesh, Increase Energy and Beautify the Complexion

"Just as my friends all started to talk about the wonderful health and beauty-giving properties of the vitamins in yeast and other raw foods, I heard about the highly concentrated form of true vitamins called Mastin's VITAMON. Once I started taking two of these tiny tablets with every meal I noticed results almost immediately. Others did, too, for people began remarking about how well I looked—how much younger and prettier—and to say I felt better doesn't half express the truly amazing improvement. I have gained several pounds, my flesh is firm, my nerves are calm and there seems to be no end to my new found energy. Now my friends who so admired the change in me are all turning to the concentrated yeast Mastin's VITAMON tablets and not only find them easy and economical to take, but results are so surprisingly quick."

The enthusiasm of this writer is like that of thousands, for Mastin's VITAMON contains not only highly concentrated yeast-vitamins, but the two other still more important vitamins (Fat soluble A and Water soluble C) which makes a proper dose to build firm tissue, strong nerves, rich blood and a keen, active brain. It will not cause gas or upset the stomach, but on the contrary, is a great aid to digestion and in overcoming chronic constipation. Boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under this healthful, purifying influence, leaving the skin fresh, clear and beautiful. So remarkable are the benefits from these highly concentrated Mastin's VITAMON tablets that entire satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed or the small amount you pay for the trial will be promptly refunded. Be sure to remember the name, Mastin's VITAMON—the original and genuine yeast-vitamin tablet—there is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get Mastin's VITAMON tablets at all good druggists.

The Book of Knowledge

THE CHILDREN'S ENCYCLOPAEDIA

A Long Start on the Road to Knowledge

This boy and this girl belong to the vast army of children who are today reading and loving THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE, the Children's Encyclopaedia, as the greatest helper and best loved companion in the home. They form an endless chain of boys and girls in many lands who have had that priceless gift, the right start on the road to knowledge, the right training in forming habits of thought and high ideals.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE is the link between the home and the school. It gives the teacher a sure foundation upon which she may build. The child who comes to school with an empty head has not half the chance of the boy or girl who has had THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE in the every-day life of the home. Let your child read and study this remarkable work 15 minutes a day for three years and he will know more about the earth and life upon it than the wisest men knew a few generations ago.

The child's greatest right is the right to a practical education, and THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE has discovered how to make learning interesting to growing minds; it is a treasure house of wonderfully interesting information told in the simplest language. The child who is not naturally studious loves to look at the 10,000 fascinating educational pictures. Soon he is reading the little, authentic talks which accompany them. He has become a "reading child" almost without effort. Join the army of those who are stepping aside from the beaten track and giving their children a better chance to make a success of their work and lives.

"The Book of Knowledge Helps Me."

A Better Chance for Your Child Develops Every Faculty

A new force has come into the life of the home and the school—a new method of education for the child of today. Place THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE in your home and watch which of the 16 Great Departments, Nature, Science, History, Astronomy, Biography, Physiology, Art, Poetry, Literature, and Educational Occupations, interests your child most. Persistence and pleasure are the signs to look for here. You cannot "forcibly feed" your child's mind, but you can give it a chance to find its own natural food. The different departments are the test which enable the child to get the right start without wasting time or effort. The future of a boy or girl will often be determined by the possession of these volumes.

Pictures speak all languages. Their appeal is direct and immediate from the youngest to the oldest. The 10,000 striking educational pictures of THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE show and explain the important knowledge of the world in a way which can never be forgotten. The world in the sky, the world in the waters, the world in forest and field, are beautifully illustrated with series upon series of pictures. There are pictures of cows, dogs and horses in their natural colors. Every step of important industrial processes is pictured and described, and the practical things of every-day life are wonderfully illustrated and explained.

Facts Which Tell the Story

The efficiency of the ignorant person in comparison with the educated is as the spinning wheel against the factory, the pine knot against the electric light, the log cabin against a steel skyscraper, or the three R's against THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE. The boys or girls at school who need help in their compositions, father and mother who want a quick and handy reference to some subject of present-day interest, aunt who must have an outline for her club paper—every member of the family is equally satisfied and delighted. Over 1,000,000 children of today are being educated with this great new helper in the home. Every teacher knows that children who possess this work lead their classes. It is the best thing a little money can buy.

The ideal age for THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE in the home is between the ages of three and eighteen. If you have children between these ages in your home, mail the coupon for the free sample book, as big as a magazine and more interesting. IT IS YOURS FOR THE ASKING.

The FREE BOOK contains 82 pages, 140 pictures, the contents of all the great departments, and 350 questions answered in the Wonder Section, and a number of brief articles showing the method of teaching the child the most difficult subjects quickly and easily. Send for this FREE BOOK and the secret will be yours. Let the children decide.

Watch Your Gums—Bleeding a Sign of Trouble

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the forerunners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. These poisons often cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for teeth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. For

$50,000 HOLDUP IN PAWNSHOP IS POLICE PUZZLE

What puzzle the Warren avenue police concerning a reported $50,000 robbery in Stern Bros. pawnshop at 1754 West Madison street yesterday is how the proprietors could have accumulated that much stock after having been cleaned out by another alleged gang of robbers only a few months ago, and how the second group of bandits escaped through a padlocked and chained rear door.

Employees Give Alarm.
Sgt. M. Couch and Patrolman David Birmingham were standing near the store when Natalky rushed out, at about 9 o'clock in the morning, shouting that there had been a robbery. They were told four masked men had entered the place, compelled Stern and the employees to lie on their stomachs at the rear of the place, and had ransacked two large safes at their leisure.

A Keyhole Holdup.
Six men who attempted to hold up the West Thirty-first State bank, 555 West 31st street, shortly before noon, became so flustered when a perfectly good revolver missed fire and a burglar alarm began beating a tattoo outside they enacted a movie-comedy in making their escape.

Ignatius Chap, president of the bank, stepped on the burglar alarm button when he became suspicious of the men.

"Bawls Out" Robbers.
Miss Frances Chap, daughter of the proprietor and receiving teller, became so indignant at the nervous, unintelligible manner in which one of the robbers asked questions that she "bawled him out," and in his confusion he collided with Miss Gertrude Chap, another daughter, and Miss Marie Kessel, a teller, in trying to make a quick exit.

KENOSHA GIRL IS BURNED.
Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Margaret McDermott, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McDermott, was fatally burned today, when she was playing with matches and set her dress on fire. The mother exclaimed the flames, but the child was so severely burned about the head and shoulders physicians fear she will die.

TICKET SCALPERS PLEAD GUILTY; 5 PAY $5, ONE $25

Criticizing University of Chicago officials for apparent inability to "cope with the problem" of ticket scalping in connection with football games at Stagg field, Judge William Morgan in the "Boys" court yesterday assessed fines of from $5 to $25 against six young men arrested for ticket selling at the Chicago-Wisconsin game last Saturday.

Those fined were Roy Carver, 4841 West Monroe street; Henry Shanks, 2221 East 75th street; Abe and Joseph Neider, 2488 Haddon avenue; Morris Wolberman, 1247 Washburn avenue, and Sol Walthman. All were fined $5 excepting Walthman, who was given a fine of $25.

Charles Aka, 29 years old, 4920 Indiana avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of impersonating a ticket taker at Stagg field during both the Chicago-Ohio and the Chicago-Wisconsin games and was fined $25.

BEATS WIFE; SANITY DOUBTED.
Homer Uter, 4841 Broadway avenue, who was arrested after he had beaten his wife with a cavalry saber, was held to the grand jury yesterday, by Judge Gemmill. The judge ordered that he be examined as to his sanity.

In the hardest water or in water as soft as rain water

The lasting Rinso suds
soak clothes clean

WATER varies in hardness in different localities—from 7 parts hardness in towns where the water is almost as soft as rain water, to 580 parts in some towns where it is so hard that it forms heavy deposits on all utensils used.

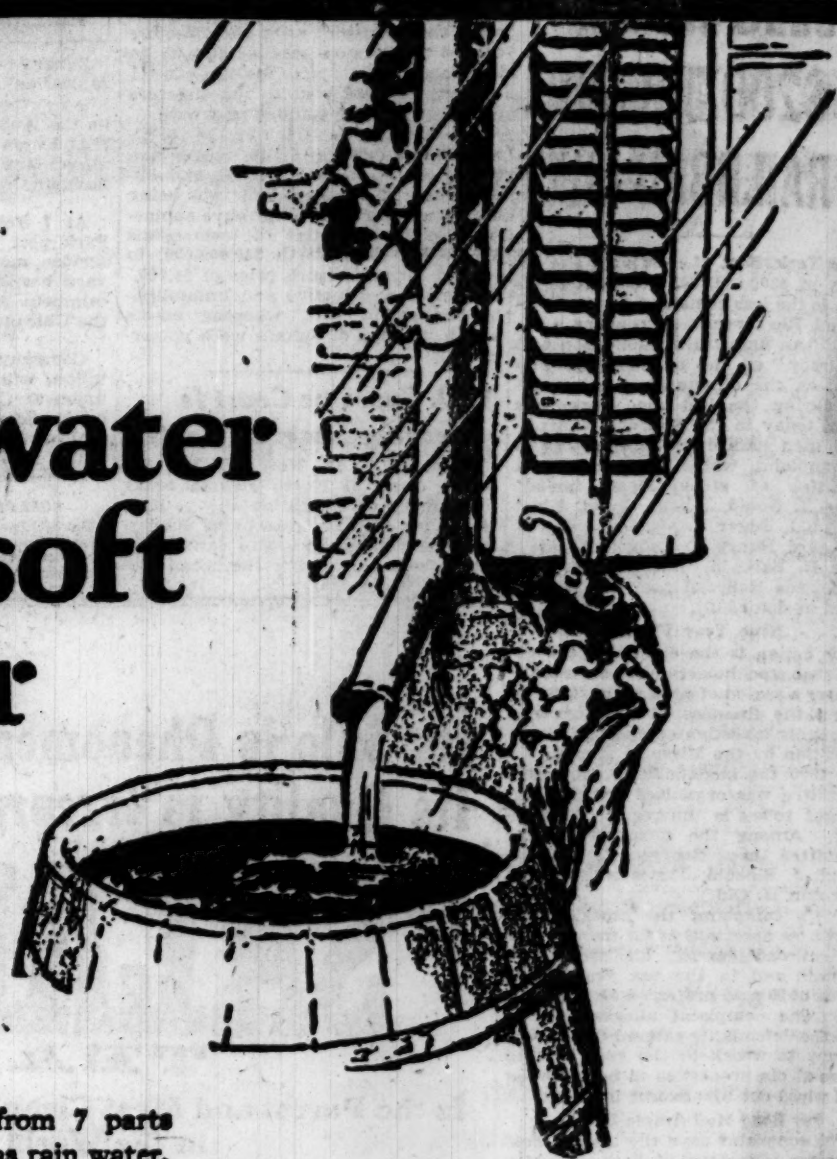

Hardness also varies from season to season—with ordinary soaps you have sometimes found it difficult to get a suds at all.

Knowing what difficulties women had with hard water, the largest soap makers in the world, in making Rinso, met this problem, too. They made Rinso so rich in pure cleansing materials that even in hard water it makes a thick, lasting suds that soaks clothes clean.

In hard water just add more Rinso until you get a rich, soapy suds. Rinso is so harmless that your clothes soak as safely in it as in water alone. Don't rub your youth away.

Get several packages of Rinso today. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Your clothes soak as safely in Rinso as in water alone

Rinso

SPECIAL DIRECTIONS—to make hard water
as soft as rain water

For ordinarily soft water a half package of Rinso to a tub makes a rich lather. For harder water increase the amount until you get a rich lasting suds, even after the clothes have been put in.

Where water is extremely hard it may be necessary to dissolve a full package or more to a tub.

Dissolve the amount of Rinso you have found right for the water you use in two quarts of boiling water. Pour this solution into your tub of lukewarm water—stir well.

Put in your clothes and let them soak one hour, two hours, overnight—whatever time is convenient. Rinse, to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.

No other soap product or softener is needed with Rinso, even in the hardest water. In hard water just use more Rinso.

PASS THAT BEAT OHIO WAS LEGAL, WILCE ADMITS

Columbus, O., Nov. 21.—After a careful study of the movies showing the forward pass play from Peden to Walquist, which resulted in a victory for Illinois over Ohio State here last Saturday, Coach Jack Wilce of the Buckeye eleven today asserted the play was legal.

When the motion picture of the game was shown for the first time at a local theater last night, men interested in the play asserted the ball had touched the ground and the winning Illinois touchdown should not have been allowed. Even Coach Wilce came forward with the announcement that the game might be protested, but today he changed his mind, after the pictures were shown in private.

The picture plainly shows that the ball was first touched by Capt. Walquist, who scooped it off Capt. Myers' legs as the Buckeye leader was falling to the ground. Coach Wilce declared the motion pictures give an optical illusion of the ball striking the ground when run off at high speed.

Officials give details. While a controversy raged in conference centers yesterday over the forward pass that gave Illinois a 7 to 0 victory against Ohio State Saturday in the highest upset of the western football season, Nicholas Kearns of Chicago, field judge in the game, exploded the belief, based on a motion picture version of the play, that the ball was grounded before Capt. Walquist of Illinois plucked it and maced away for a touchdown.

Kearns said he was within five yards of the disputed play, that the ball did not touch the ground, that it was fully contacted according to the rules, and that the motion picture camera, on which Ohio's claims were based, must have been at least thirty yards away from the scene of action.

Reason for Optical Illusion. Picking the ball off the nearly prostrate Ohio player was held responsible by Kearns for the illusion that the ball was picked off the ground. Both Col. Mumma, the umpire, and Kearns agreed that the disputed pass was completed, the latter said, and both reported their decision to Referee Magidson of the game before the referee ruled a touchdown.

"The pass was a short one—not more than nine to twelve yards," Kearns said. "Col. Mumma, being just behind the line of scrimmage, was right on top of the play and I was less than ten yards away. Both of us ruled that the ball did not touch the ground."

Zupke Wants to See Film. Des Moines, Ill., Nov. 21.—In the forward pass play which resulted in the Illinois touchdown and victory over Ohio State at Columbus the ball bounced from Walquist's fingers, struck Capt. Myers of Ohio, and was scooped by Walquist before it struck the ground, Coach Zupke asserted.

Coach Zupke said that there was no review after the game by any Ohio line player or official, as far as he knew. He said he would like to see the pictures.

DEERFIELD TEAM LEAVES FOR EAST. The Deerfield high school eleven, suburban champions, departed last night on their trip to play the Brookline, Mass., team Thanksgiving day. A crowd of 400 rooters and a band accompanied them to the station and provided a lively send-off. They will make a stopoff at Niagara Falls today and then make the return trip from Boston via New York and Washington.

Chicago Cardinals Play Stayms-Foresters Sunday. Capt. Paddy Driscoll will lead the Chicago Cardinals from their old home at Normal park on Thanksgiving day to battle the Strong Stayms-Foresters eleven on the latter's field at Forest park. The Stayms have been strengthened for the battle and with McGraw, Illinois, and Fortune, Michigan, at guards, the line is rated the best that directed by Driscoll. Kickoff is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

BUFFALO ELEVEN ADDS STARS FOR STALEY BATTLE

The national pro title may rest on the Thanksgiving afternoon game at Cub park between the Staleys and Buffalo All Stars. The Staleys, unbeaten in seven games, claim the western championship, and the Buffalo have defeated everything they tackled in the east, although tied by Akron.

Buffalo has been loading up with stars, and will come here with two of the Detroit Tigers' crack tackles, Voss from Detroit university, and Horning, All-American, from Colgate. The All Stars have a great backfield, composed of Pat Smith, Michigan's full back and picked as All-American when with the Great Lakes eleven; Half Back Eddie O'Hearn of Lehigh and Carl Beck of Penn State, and Quarter Back Tommy Hught of Michigan. Anderson, an All-American quarter when with Colgate, is also with Buffalo.

Tickets are on sale at Wilson's, Washburn avenue and Monroe street.

IOWA GRIDDERS TO GET TROPHIES

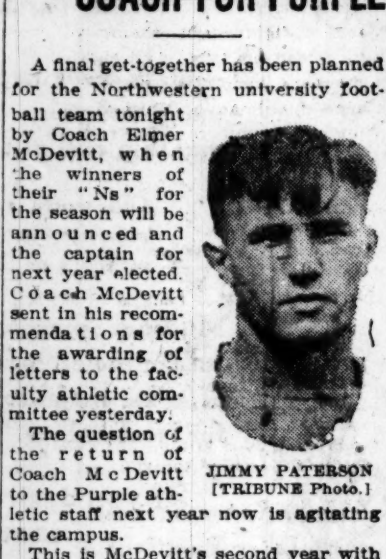

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 21.—The board of control of athletics at University of Iowa will award miniature gold and silver footballs to members of the 1921 team on the evening of Dec. 14, when the annual football banquet is given the team. At the same time next year's varsity football captain will be elected and letters awarded.

The gold and silver footballs, to be worn as watch charms by the winners of the varsity "Y" and secondary letters, respectively, will be inscribed as follows: "Western and Big Ten Champions, 1921."

Y COLLEGE AND DE PAUL TO MEET

De Paul university will meet the strong Chicago Y. M. C. A. college team in a Thanksgiving day game at the north side school at 2 o'clock. It will be homecoming day for De Paul, and officials are figuring on a big crowd. The "Y" college has been undefeated this season, and with De Paul in first class shape a good battle is expected.

MOVE FOR ALL-YEAR COACH FOR PURPLE

JIMMY PATTERSON
(Northwestern university football team.)

A final get-together has been planned for the Northwestern university football team tonight by Coach Elmer McDewitt, when the winners of the season will be announced and the captain for next year elected. Coach McDewitt sent in his recommendations for the awarding of letters to the faculty athletic committee yesterday.

The question of the return of Coach McDewitt to the Purple athletic staff next year now is agitating the campus.

This is McDewitt's second year with the Purple, but he was given only a one year contract at the close of the 1920 season. McDewitt is a member of a law firm in Duluth, Minn., and he plans to return to his law practice the first of next week.

A move for a football coach who could stay at his post the year around has been started by members of the student body and carried on through the columns of the Daily Northwestern. Coach McDewitt has spent the three months of the football season on the Evanston campus and was on hand last spring for a short practice.

Northwestern now has "year around" coaches in every sport except football and baseball. George Sawtelle's departure following the Iowa game leaves the Purple without a baseball coach, but it is thought that a man who can direct the baseball team in the spring and assist with the football squad in the fall soon will be secured.

Jimmy Patterson, full back, has been mentioned as the probable Purple captain for the 1922 season. This is his second year as a regular, and he is considered among the best defensive full backs in the conference.

CORNELL WINNER IN X-COUNTRY RUN

New York, Nov. 21.—Cornell university today won both team and individual titles in the thirteenth annual varsity six mile cross country run of the Intercollegiate association, over the Van Cortlandt park course. Robert E. Brown of Cornell finished first and N. P. Brown, his brother, second. The Ithaca team total was 19 points. Nearly 100 competed.

The winner's time was 32:20.5. The third man was Charles E. Carter, also of Cornell.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

ILLINOIS' TOUCHDOWN. From a scrimmage, including forward passes, and Illinois 112. Ohio completed 11 of the 26 forward passes and Illinois 3 of 4. Illinois was penalized 28 yards and Ohio 5.

Yardage gained, however, is often misleading, for Illinois held for downs 3 times and intercepted 6 forward passes to 1 for Ohio. This enables the defending team to punt and nullify thirty to forty yards gained by its opponents. After scoring, Illinois, of course, played safe.

All of which will be about all for the Illinois-Ohio game for the present.

STAGG LOSES ELEVEN PLAYERS OF 1921 TEAM

BY ALBON HOLDEN. With the 1921 football season now past history, the University of Chicago football squad balance accounts an emptied locker yesterday.

The victory over Wisconsin closed the year for the Maroons, who went through the season with six wins out of seven starts, their goal line being crossed only once, in the Ohio State game.

Chicago scored 111 points to 13 by seven opponents.

Despite the loss of the Buckeye game, which kept the Maroons from a tie with Iowa for Big Ten honors, the Midway considered the season a great success.

Cheering News for Princeton. Capt. Charles McGuire, all-conference tackle last year and again this fall, and a man who may be chosen for All-American honors, has played his last game for Chicago, as has Fritz Crisler, the best Chicago end in at least ten years, who wound up his three years of heroic service to Chicago.

Bobbie Cole, the clever little passing, punting, and running half back; Jerry Self, a dependable reserve half back; Raymond Hermes, one of Stagg's four full backs; Charlie Redmon, this year's track captain and a fine guard, who opened big holes for Thomas in every game, and "Death" Haladay, this year's basketball captain, played their last game of football, and Luther Tate, substitute quarter back, has finished his third year of football.

Rodney Miller, who played most of the Princeton game at guard, is a senior, and John Hurlbut, who had previous football experience at Cornell college, Iowa, is a senior. Bryan is married and has two children to support, and it is extremely doubtful if he will return next fall.

Three Captaincy Eligibles. Harold Lewis, guard; Raynor Timme, full back, and Otto Strobel, end, are the candidates for captaincy of the 1922 team. All three are juniors who have played two years on the varsity.

A DEVINE IS LEADER OF BIG TEN SCORERS FOR FOOTBALL SEASON

AUBREY DEVINE, quarter back of the University of Iowa's western football champions, led the western conference in scoring during the season. Devine tallied sixty-eight of the 123 points his team made in championship contests, a record which has not been equaled in the conference in recent years.

Counting preliminary games, his season's total would be much larger. Ranking next to Devine was Elliott, Wisconsin's half back who scored seven touchdowns for forty-two points in championship contests. Locke of Iowa was third.

The following shows the touchdowns, goals, field goals, and total points by individuals, only conference championship games being included.

Player	Team	T.D.	G.	F.G.	Tot.
A. Devine	Iowa	9	14	0	68
Elliott	Wisconsin	7	0	6	42
Locke	Iowa	5	0	30	30

FOUR EASTERN COLLEGE TEAMS WITHOUT DEFEAT

New York, Nov. 21.—Yale's loss to Harvard leaves Penn State, Lafayette, Cornell and Washington and Jefferson as the only undefeated major college eleven of the east.

Lafayette finished the season with a triumph over Lehigh, and Yale's reverse was unexpected by a majority of the so-called football experts. Cornell's Thanksgiving day game is with Penn; Washington and Jefferson will oppose West Virginia, and Penn State attacks Glenn Warner's tough Dixie burghers. Penn State and Cornell each has won seven games, Washington and Jefferson eight, and Lafayette nine.

Capt. Malcolm Aldrich of Yale continues the leading point scorer in eastern football, the field goal he booted against Harvard making his point total eighty-six. Capt. Jim Robertson of Dartmouth is second with seventy-five and Kenyon of Georgetown third with sixty-eight, two points ahead of Lightner of Penn State. Kaw of Cornell, Killinger of Penn State and Eliot of Lafayette each has sixty points.

BRUNDAGE READY TO SUE SMALL ON INTEREST CLAIMS

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Civil suits against Gov. Small and other former state treasurers who held office during the period covered by the state interest law, under which Gov. Small was indicted, will be filed in Springfield within the next forty-eight hours.

Attorney General Edward J. Brundage, who personally is handling this phase of the cases involving state funds and their interest, went to Springfield last night to place his final O. K. upon the necessary preliminaries.

The action, it is understood, will affect the treasurer and all sureties on their official bonds. Until the present state treasurer, Edward E. Miller, took office the custom was for a state treasurer to furnish a personal bond, with sureties running as high as twenty, in some instances.

Indications are that the suits that will be filed by the state at Springfield will include as defendants all principals and sureties, running back over a long period.

"I am leaving for Springfield tonight," Attorney General Brundage said. "The details of the cases that are to be filed in due course in Sangamon county cannot be disclosed at this time. Action may be expected during the present week, however."

To Launch New Political Party, "The Liberals"

Plans for launching a new national political party, "The Liberal Party," were formulated yesterday at a conference of the "Committee of Forty-eight of Ohio," at the Congress hotel. The first plank in the platform were adopted—government ownership of railroads and public ownership of natural resources. It is expected to have congressional candidates for the 1922 election and a ticket for the presidential campaign of 1924.

Dr. Emil G. Hirsch

says about books:

"I found books to be my best and staunchest friends. They came to visit me whenever I asked for their company. In days of my happiness they were at my side and their speech never failed to add new joy to my heart. When clouds of sorrow dimmed my vision these dear friends of mine helped me carry the burden. . . . The Arabs claim that every word between the lids of their Koran is divine. This claim holds good for every word in a good book, whatever may be your religion or the nationality of its author."

SNAPPY MARKET IN WHEAT ENDS WITH NET GAINS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Bullish sentiment predominated in wheat, the strong domestic situation being the main influence, and while the best figures were not maintained the close was at net gains of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, with December delivery, closing $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ under the May, the smallest discount so far. Corn was firm from the start and closed $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher, and rye was up $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, while oats finished $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower for the day.

The wheat market showed more snap and tendency to rally from breaks than for some time, and received good support on all the dips. There was free selling on the bulge by strong commission houses, but the temper of the local element was bullish and while a good reaction came toward the last it was due mainly to a slightly overbought pit situation.

Good buying marks corn market. Good buying was in evidence in corn, with many of the local professionals on the bull side. The late reaction in wheat and profit taking was responsible for the drop from the high point.

Trade in oats was mainly of a local character with a tendency to get out of the December and into the May. There were numerous resting orders to sell May at $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, which checked the advance, and the finish was easy. Country offerings small. Interest in rye was less active and while the market showed a firm undertone it was mainly in sympathy with wheat. Receipts of 66 cars were mainly from the northwest.

Provisions were firm early on light offerings and scattered buying but later there was selling of lard, credited to the leading packers, and with an increase in the estimated receipts of hogs from 40,000 to 47,000 the market eased and closed about the bottom, with lard off $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Hides were $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ higher. Cash demand was reported as slow. Exports of lard and hides for the week were 15,417,000 lbs. against 23,328,000 lbs. last year. Prices follow:
